On I-55 Near Portageville

Five Burn To Death In Auto Crash

PORTAGEVILLE--Five persons died in a fiery four-car accident at a police roadblock at 5 p.m. Sunday on Interstate 55 just north of the Highway 162 interchange at Portageville.

They were the only fatalities so far among 47 accidents on Bootheel roads since the July 4 weekend began.

Dead are the driver, John Edward Cooper, 24; John Henry Jackson, 23; Frank Lee Canady, 21; and Ann Jenette Jackson, 2, all of St. Louis; and Janice Mae Thompson, 12, of Shelby, Miss.

The police had thrown up a roadblock to stop a car being chased by Pemiscot County Deputy Sheriff Cleo Smith of Wardell. The car was driven by Alex Junior Burden, 24, of St. Louis.

The chase developed after Deputy Smith was called to Hometown, two miles south of Wardell, where Burden was reportedly causing a disturbance. Smith had Burden follow him back to Wardell in his car. When the deputy went to call Wardell Marshall Gene Young to put Burden in jail, Burden fled in his car. Smith returned to his car and began pursuing Burden.

Burden's brother James had followed the two men to Wardell in another car. He continued following the men during the high speed chase, at speeds in excess of 100 miles per hour, until he was stopped by Young.

Smith chased Burden onto I-55 and when he still could not stop him, the deputy radioed for a roadblock.

The roadblock was set up by Portageville Police Chief Joe Moore.

The Cooper car and one driven by James Whitehead, Jr., 30, of St. Louis, had slowed for the roadblock when Burden's car slammed into the rear of Cooper's car. The Cooper vehicle then rammed the Whitehead car and burst into flames. Whitehead's auto then hit the Police Chief's car.

Burden is being held for careless and imprudent driving and investigation of manslaughter. Deputies were reportedly searching his car today for narcotics because Burden had been acting strangely but had not been drinking.

In other accidents, two people were slightly injured in a two-car accident on East Malone in Miner.

Taken to Missouri Delta Community Hospital with minor injuries were Charles Evans, 32, of Charleston, driver on one car, and Judy Lewis, 24, of Sikeston, a passenger in the other.

According to the patrol, a car driven by Melvin Lewis, 25, of Sikeston ran a stop sign at Route H and struck the side of the Evans car.

Patty Kimball, 13, of Portageville was treated for minor injuries at Pemiscot County Memorial Hospital in Hayti after she made a U-turn on her motorcycle in front of a car driven by Panzie Cook, 16, of Portageville about 1:30 p.m. on a gravel road three miles southeast of Marston. Miss Cook was unable to avoid hitting the motorcycle, according to the patrol.

James E. DeMann, 24, of Charleston was injured at 5:30 a.m. Sunday on Interstate 57 at the Highway 105 interchange at Charleston.

He was treated for cuts on the nose at Missouri Delta Community Hospital in Sikeston.

According to the patrol, DeMann fell asleep at the wheel and struck a light pole.

William Richard Robinson, 18, of Fisk was injured in a one-car accident at 1 a.m. Sunday on Route FF one-quarter mile from Highway 60 near Fisk.

He was taken to Lucy Lee Hospital in Poplar Bluff with a concussion.

According to the patrol, Robinson was speeding, missed a curve and overturned three times in a field.

Man Flees Jail At N. Madrid

NEW MADRID — Dale Gream, 30, of Portageville escaped from the county jail at 8:30 p.m. Sunday after digiging through a brick wall with some type of rod, according to Deputy Flip Dees.

Gream was arrested Friday in St. Louis on charges of kidnaping and breaking and entering in connection with an alleged abduction two weeks ago of his former sister- in- law, Kathy Smith, in Portageville.

Miss Smith reported to officers that when she entered a mobile home at 10 p.m. where she lived with her sister, Mrs. Arvetta Gream, Gream was in the trailer under a bed. She charged he grabbed her and forced her to accompany him on foot across town where they got into a pickup truck. Gream then started making a search for his wife. After driving to Caruthersville and around the area until after midnight, Miss Smith said they returned to the trailer where Gream held her hostage until 6 a.m. when he left.

Gream, who uses an alias of Dale Taylor, is under $5,000 bond pending Circuit Court action on a kidnaping charge and $500 bond for exhibiting a dangerous and deadly weapon in connection with an alleged kidnaping of his former wife March 24, 10 days after the couple was divorced.

He is described as being five feet, nine inches tall and weighing 145 pounds. He was wearing a blue- striped shirt and blue jeans at the time of his escape.

THE LINN SMITH home at 188 Tanner St. escaped serious damage when a tree fell across it, during Saturday's windstorm. The car, owned by Smith's son Richard, was smashed by the tree.

A CAR OWNED by Richard Smith of 188 Tanner St. was smashed in his driveway when a large tree fell across it during Saturday's windstorm.

FCC Says See-Mor Granted Permission To Pick Up KETC

By RON PORTER

See-Mor Cable- TV was granted permission to pick up station KETC from St. Louis nearly two years ago, according to the Federal Communications Commission.

See-Mor officials have said previously that they requested permission to broadcast KETC and KPLR, but that the request was denied. According to the FCC, the cable company requested permission to broadcast only KETC. Permission was granted on Nov. 16, 1970, as part of the same order granting See-Mor the right to carry WSIU and WKMU.

The FCC records were relayed to The Daily Standard in June through the office of Rep. Bill Burlison.

See-Mor had listed KETC and KPLR on its proposed programming schedule when it was bidding for the city franchise at the $5 subscription rate. Both channels were dropped from the company's schedule when it received the bid. See-Mor is now offering them again at $6. The City Council approved the one- dollar rate increase June 5, apparently without knowing of See-Mor's earlier promise.

Two See-Mor officials, Fred Reynolds, of Topeka, Kan., president of the firm, and Tom Gleason, manager, met with City Manager Jim Huff last week just before Huff left for San Francisco.

Huff had written a letter to See-Mor asking for an analysis of the new services and the economic reasons for them, plus a list of shareholders in the company.

During the meeting, Huff says Reynolds handed him a copy of the company's profit and loss statement. Before Huff had a chance to look at it, Reynolds took it back saying it was his only copy. He asked Gleason to make a copy and give it to Huff. Huff, who returned Thursday

Widespread Property Damage

High Winds And Rain Sweep Through Area

High winds and heavy rains swept through the Sikeston area Saturday evening doing widespread, though mostly minor property damage.

The winds brought down power lines that left some people without service until 9:30 p.m. Sunday. Dick Inman, Director of the Sikeston Light and Water company, said he didn't know how many lines had been downed, but he said service has been restored. Work crews are now replacing makeshift repairs made during the storm.

The windstorm began around 5:30 p.m. and lasted about an hour.

Missouri Utilities lines were also brought down during the storm and repaired soon afterwards, according to company spokesmen. Scott-New Madrid -Mississippi Electrical Cooperative reported this morning the company was still having trouble with its lines.

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company reported today that it had five poles broken and 150 subscribers out of service. A company spokesman said work crews have been brought in from Jackson and a majority of the lines should be repaired by tonight. All lines will be restored by Thursday, he said.

Trees and branches fell all over the city. At the Linn Smith home at 188 Tanner St., a large tree fell on the house and a car. The roof of the car was crushed.

Other trees fell against houses, but apparently did little damage.

Cars stalled in streets flooded by heavy rain totaling 1.27 inches on Saturday and 1.06 inches on Sunday. Firemen had to rescue a woman in a car in the 100 block of North West Street after she stalled in the street and trees and power lines fell across her car.

Firemen made 17 runs during Saturday night's storm. Most of the calls were for fires caused by downed electrical lines. At Crenshaw Distributing Company low voltage from loss of power caused an electrical motor to overheat and smoke.

Winds broke out windows and tore up awnings throughout the area. A masonry block storage building owend by A.C. James, located north of the Ramada Inn on Route H was completely destoryed.

Two barns were damaged by the winds. A portion of a barn owned by Robert Greene blew across Albes Road, snapping a utility pole in the process. Another barn, owned by Bob Matthews, was blown off its foundation, and a shed next to it was destroyed. The barn is located just south of Sikeston.

An area one-mile wide and seven miles long just south of Sikeston received crop damage from hail, wind and water.

The city announced today that it will collect branches brought down during the storm if they are placed next to the street.

No serious damage from the weekend storm was reported in the Dexter area.

Missouri Utilities in Dexter reported only localized power failures in Dexter, rural Dudley, Bernie, rural Essex and Fisk, caused by limbs falling on service lines.

The roof of a station wagon owned by Chris Dillie of 111 S outhwest Main in Dexter was caved in on one side after a tree was blown down on the car.

Voter Registration Deadline Approaches

CHARLESTON — Mississippi County voter registration book will close July 11 and will not be reopened until after the Aug. 8 primary election. Anyone wishing to vote in the primary election must be registered prior to the July 11 deadline.

To be eligible for registration, one must be 18 years old by Nov. 7 and must be a resident of Missouri and Mississippi County for 60 days.

Voters may register at the county clerk's office in the courthouse at Charleston and at LaWanda Douglas Insurance Agency in East Prairie during business hours.

Registered voters are reminded if they have changed their address since the last election, or if they have married and changed their name, they must bring their registration up to date by filing out a change card at either of the registration places, according to Arthur Lee Goodin, Mississippi County clerk.

Freak Storm Kills Two

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A freakish storm that nurtured a tornado or high winds resulted in two deaths and damave to a marina at the Lake of the Ozarks Sunday night while a series of thunderstorms raked other sections of central Missouri and eastern Kansas.

The National Weather Service reported a tornado touched down near Laurie, Mo., on the lake's Gravois arm at 7:50 p.m. At the time, a Moberly, Mo., couple and the woman's mother "evidently were docking their boat," reported Sheriff J. T. Hull of Morgan County.

Killed was Robert J. Quade, 45, and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Ada Belle Combs, 71, Grandview, Mo. Quade's wife, Marjorie, 45, who was found wedged between a boat and the dock, was hospitalized at Sedalia, where she was reported in fair condition.

"I don't believe it was a tornado because all the debris was right there ... everything was confined to that cove," Hull said. "It demolished this one section of the dock" at the Blue Anchor Marina.

He said, "I expect all the damage together would be about $135,000 to $150,000. About five or six boats were damaged."

One witness, Bill Williams of Kansas City, said he and his wife rode out the tornado in their 20-foot boat inside the cove.

"The tornado gave almost no warning," he said. "The sky was fairly clear, then clouds and rain came, and then the tornado — all ovec the space of maybe 15 minutes."

At Sunrise Beach, about five miles south of Laurie, winds were clocked at 80 miles per hour at about the time the marina was hit. Some telephone line trouble was reported.

Persons in many areas of west-central Missouri and eastern Kansas spent the better part of the early evening under thunderstorm warnings, all related to a cool front, the weather service said.

A tornado was reported southwest of Topeka, Kan., by a highway patrolman quoted by the weather service as saying the twister spun his car around nearly three times on the Kansas Turnpike.

INDEPENDENCE DAY — THEN AND NOW

Probably no national holiday holds deeper meaning for Americans than Independence Day, the annual observance of the adoption of the Declaration of Independence by the Continental Congress in Philadelphia on July 4, 1776.

It is a day for commemoration, certainly, but beyond the mere symbolic ceremonies marking the 196th anniversary of American's proclamation of freedom, it is a time for examination of the principles which led to this deliverance from tyranny.

"When in the course of human events ..."

Virtually every schoolboy knows the words. But how many schoolboys, or adults either, have taken the time to reflect, to fully realize that these first seven words of the Declaration introduce a fundamental law which states that individuals have a God-given right to govern themselves in a free society?

"We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights ..."

This is indisputable, but today we take our freedom for granted.

When the writers of the Declaration of Independence were framing their proclamation the American colonies were living under the heavy hand of British oppression. Freedom was a hard-won thing, coming only after a bitter struggle against overwhelming odds in the war for independence.

Now is a time for citizens to renew their awareness of their heritage. Just as important, it's an occasion for all Americans to review the principles set down by their forefathers for a clear understanding of what liberty is all about.

The concept of freedom outlined in the Declaration of Independence does not include the privilege of abusing the rights of others. There is no inalienable right, as some contend today, for the minority to tyrannize the majority.

Those forces which wrongly claim the constitutional privilege of disrupting society by ignoring laws would destroy the very freedom which the colonists set out to provide.

The Fourth of July is many things to many people. It's flags and parades for some, firecrackers and picnics for others. It's a holiday, a day of celebration. But most importantly, it's freedom of choice. Independence Day is a shining symbol of the freest society ever to exist.

The Declaration of Independence is one of history's most exceptional documents. It's a forceful call for freedom, but for freedom with a purpose. It's a demand for government by the people, regulated by laws arrived at through a democratic process.

The Constitution of the United States is the solid foundation on which our democracy is built, but the Declaration of Independence is the cornerstone, the most basic element.

"And for the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes, and our sacred honor."

How many persons today would be willing to sign a document which concluded with these words? What percentage of Americans now would be willing to make the same sacrifices that their forefathers did in the United Colonies?

These questions seem particularly relevant at a time in our history when misguided factions seem bent on eroding our freedom through perverse definitions of individual rights. Today more than ever in our nation's almost two centuries we need to strengthen our resolve to fight against those destructive forces which threaten to undermine liberty with their self-styled "freedom's." The richest heritage on earth must not be allowed to waste away from apathetic inattention.

Symbols play a very important part in our lives.The values we most esteem as Americans are symbolized by our flag. It is through symbols that man lives and loves. Those ages are the noblest which place the highest value on symbolic worth as a means of indicating real values.

Every day in most of the schools of America our children recite their pledge of allegiance to our flag and to our country. Nowhere is the flag more honored than by our military forces throughout the world. It should be honored in every home in the United States. Freedom that is taken for granted will be taken away.

More than 60 million pleasure boats will be on our waterways this summer. All operators should know the rules of water safety. Last year more than 1500 persons were killed in boating accidents.

Keep highway rules in mind: the boat on the right has the right of way. Motor boats should give way to row boat and sailing craft.

Bring an anchor, oars, hook, first-aid kit, tools, fire extinguisher and extra lines. Make sure your lights are functioning at night.

Beware of overloading, standing up in small boats, smoking while fueling, or using a motor too powerful for your boat. Have a life jacket for everyone on board. Mediocre swimmers should wear them at all times.

A little planning can make this a thoroughly enjoyable summer of boating. The U. S. Weather Service will keep you posted via radio. The Coast Guard, Red Cross and other groups offer safety courses. Hit a home run! Touch home safely.

EAST GERMAN REFORMS

The East German communists have long been regarded as the most dogmatic and stricture-bound of all Marxists. Now, after two decades of talk, they are taking practical steps to fulfill that old maxim: From each according to his abilities, to each according to his needs. As of Saturday, July 1, the top salaries earned by any individual may not exceed 2,000 Marks (about $550) a month. The average wage earner's income remains about 750 Marks (close to $200).

Although East Germany has the highest standard of living of any Communist state, this new law will hit scientists, architects, artists, doctors, entertainers, journalists, businessmen and even top-echelon bureaucrats. Some East Germans, like physicist Manfred von Ardenne, became millionaires because of patents or royalties. In The Other Germany John Dornberg wrote that, "East Germany certainly has strata of society almost indistinguishable from traditional classes" because of the affluent life of the upper-income groups. At special duty-free shops, this new class could buy anything from hosiery to French cognac at cut-rate prices, provided the purchases were made in foreign currency.

The new government of Erich Honecker, which took over from Walter Ulbricht last year, is also acting to wipe out the surviving privately owned enterprises. All 3,200 remaining private firms, such as small dress manufacturers or small-scale optical firms, must sell out to the government. Similarly, there are some 5,600 semi-private concerns with partial state ownership which must sell all remaining interests to the state. The private sector formed about 14.3 per cent of East Germany's gross industrial production and employed 416,000 workers at the end of 1971. Whether the switch will have a drastic effect on the East German economy remains to be seen. However, to counter any possible disaffection in the ranks of the enterprising, Honecker has promised a big increase to those living on pensions.

The East German government contends, in effect, that the country has never had it so good. It announced last month that production of foodstuffs and consumer goods had increased by 7 per cent between the first quarter of 1971 and the first quarter of 1972. Still, the Honecker regime balks at the idea of permitting free travel to the West. It is feared that thousands of East Germans would settle permanently in West Germany in search of higher living standards.

CANADA THE UNEASY

Parisians maintain the French spoken there is incomprehensible. The British see the country as a pale imitation of the United States. And Americans like to invest their money or evade the draft there. The country, of course, is Canada. And the question is whether it will survive or dissolve like a gigantic spoonful of sugar in the so-called American melting pot. That, anyway, is the fear of Canadian nationalists. They see America's $34 billion investment and its virtual ownership of important segments of the economy as a sort of Trojan Horse.

Independent, troubled, vibrant and uncertain as ever, Canadians celebrate their country's 105th birthday, Dominion Day, on Saturday, July 1. Fear of the United States in 1867 was a major factor in the decision of four British colonies -- Ontario, Quebec, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia -- to join together in a nucleus Canadian Dominion. Uneasiness about the superpower to the south is still an element of the Canadian character.

Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau has other problems. While unemployment appears to be easing, it was still 5.8 per cent during April. The aspirations of French Quebec for more autonomy remain an issue. These are unpalatable foods for thought as Trudeau ponders when to hold the next election. Observers in Ottawa believe the Prime Minister will go to the people next October, but he could legally delay the vote until the spring of 1973.

Whenever the campaign begins, it's a safe bet that economic nationalism will be an issue. Trudeau's Liberal government recently introduced a bill which would lead to a screening of future American takeovers of established Canadian firms. What the nationalists wanted, though, was a tougher stand against all further foreign investment. The next election could decide whether Canada is willing to accept higher unemployment and the lower standard of living that a cutoff of foreign investment would entail.

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The temperature was in the 90s, the sun was enoug to blister granite and the humidity could drown a dryland Texan.

It was not a time to leave an air-conditioned home and go downtown to stand around and watch people on a Saturday.

It turned out to be worth the effort and discomfort, and it's too bad that all those people who believe the world is going to hell in a handbasket weren't there to see it.

It was the last day of Explo 72, that Crusade for Christ affair that brought thousands of young people to Dallas from all over the world.

The final event was a long session of music called the Jesus Music Festival. The scene was a complex of expressways easily blocked off on a Saturday.

Someone had hammered together a large stage, and the concrete and grass-covered open places sloped gently, creating a natural amphitheater.

Official estimates placed the crowd at 150,000 to 200,000. That was at any given moment.

Hundreds always were arriving and other leaving, like ocean waves coming and going, and probably twice the listed figures were there at one time or another.

It wasn't the mere massiveness of the crowd that was impressive, remarkable as it was.

It was the young people.

They sat around in groups on the grass or the concrete, talking with each other, letting the music from the performers on the stage pour over them.

The core of this crowd had been in Dallas six days but gave no evidence of fatigue or discomfort. The young people were still smiling, relaxed, with a sort of inner clam.

Almost shocking to a longtime city resident was the numerous occasions when some pretty young chick would walk past, smile, and say "hello."

The first time or two this happened, I was so shocked I couldn't respond, then I got into the spirit of this fellowship and smiled and helloed along with the best.

A person attending the music festival and not wearing an Explo tag was fair game immediately for the young people who wanted to tell persons about Christ.

They were not aggressive, however. A pair would walk up and smile and ask something like, "do you know Christ?"

No matter the answer, the young people would present a piece of literature and offer to answer questions. A few words and they would drift on.

Oh, there were some troubles. But considering everything, the whole affair went beautifully.

THE WALLACE VOTE

While Alabama Gov. George Wallace may be a long way from winning the Democratic Party's presidential nomination, there is far less doubt about the attention which the party's old pros are going to have to give him

Wallace was expected to win handily in Michigan's primary on Tuesday, and was given an edge in Maryland. What surprised may election watchers was the magnitude of his victories in both states. Even if you grant some sympathy votes as a result of the attempt on Governor Wallace's life on the eve of these two primaries, he still has stunned Senators George Mc Govern and Hubert Humphrey. These two are now heading toward California for face-to-face combat over the biggest of the state delegations for the Democrats' July convention.

But even after California, and the other primaries yet to be held, Wallace will be a force to reckon with. The nomination may not be within his reach, but a lot of American voters, North and South, have now let the politicians know that the things George Wallace talks about — school busing, taxation, big government - are the issues on which they, too, feel strongly.

Whoever wins the Democratic nomination will not likely forget the Wallace vote, and what it says.

LAW OFFICERS NEED HELP

Do you like to go camping? Then wake up. One of the nation's vital resources is in danger--our recreation areas.

Mr. Joseph W. Bennett, in his recently published and revealing book, "Vandals Wild," has stated that by the year 2000",,,We'll have 16 to 20 million destructive vandals desecrating our parks and waterways..." Presently 95 per cent of the population is allowing 5 per cent of the population to desecrate and ruin things that are meaningful to us. Widespread destruction done out of pure cussedness is common. In one Oregon county, officials became so outraged over vandalism in a park that they closed it. The park was re-opened after one resident volunteered information leading to the arrest and prosecution of the vandals involved.

It is up to the private citizen to help do something about this deliberate, lawless and costly destruction. If a cure is not found, closure of our public playgrounds, and recreation areas will be in order. No one wishes to pay taxes to provide vandals with property to destroy. So concerned citizens should help the authorities apprehend the destroyers.

A story in the Jamaica, New York Long Island Press contains a message that is particularly timely. Carrying overtones of an earlier era...the era of the great migrations to America from overseas...this newspaper story also describes an incident typical of present day America.It tells of two young boys whose mothers sent them to this country from Cuba eight years ago. As immigrants, they buckled down to the job of learning to live in a new country. They became excellent students in school, learned English, made many American friends and adapted themselves to life in a new country, just as did millions of other immigrants seeking freedom generations ago. Because of their scholastic excellence, both young men were presented with opportunities for advanced education through scholarships.

These boys have found, as have countless others, the way to educational opportunity made possible by many companies and businesses which provide assistance through scholarships to young people showing superior ability in school. In the instance of the two young Cubans, each has received a $1,000 scholarship from the nation's largest trading stamp concern.. scholarships that are available to the children of employees of the company. An interesting aspect of these scholarships is that they come from a business firm that represents one of the oldest segments of an industry that is largely responsible for the successful development of modern mass production and distribution...promotion and advertising.

QUICK ACTION IN A WORTHY CAUSE

Concerned citizens still have time and opportunity to save our Constitution and preserve our Republic. News reports show that many of the delegates to the Democratic National Convention in Miami Beach starting July 10 are being challenged. Committees should be formed without a delay.

Members of each committee will decide the goals and run the committee. The best people will influence the committees for the greatest good of the Republic. One committee will no doubt cooperate with other committees of like philosophy.

People trying to act alone feel ineffective and one big advantage of operating with a committee is to get away from this feeling. A spokesman for a group will get a better hearing from delegates and political leaders at the conventions than one lonely citizen can.

Delegates to conventions have neighbors and would be influenced constructively by a good committee of neighbors communicating their desires to their delegates. Members of committees can enjoy thoroughly informing themselves and attain their wishes for good government by selecting the most capable public servants available. Governors, U.S. Senators, Congressmen, Mayors, Sheriffs, distinguished religious leaders, entertainers, leaders of women's activities, and wise businessmen can organize and conduct their committee's operations. These committees can do more to save our Republic and our Constitution, which have afforded more liberty and better living, through the profit motive, for more people than has ever before been known in the history of mankind. It is late and getting later. HLH.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

McGovern's Personal Phone Calls: labor chiefs may boycott democrats' nominating convention.

WASHINGTON — In effect, cigar-munching labor chief George Meany may put the national Democratic convention on the political unfair list and boycott it.

Though the stocky, immovable leader of 13.6 million AFL—CIO workers has train reservations for Miami on July 7, there are reliable reports that he wants to have "nothing to do with (George) McGovern"; he still believes it possible to stop the Senator on a third ballot if there is one and therefore is pushing the Credentials Committee fight, especially on the California delegate issue, against the South Dakotan -- and if it appears that McGovern has the nomination locked up before the first gavel, Meany won't attend.

And from deep inside the sanctum also comes word that the national labor leader, who has been the steel backbone of the Democratic party for well over a decade, has been refusing to answer McGovern's personal phone calls. The front-runer has been eager to reach him. But as of this writing Meany hasn't budged.

Of course, calls from McGovern's super-stragegist Frank Mankiewicz and campaign coordinator Gary Hart, who have been bombarding the national labor headquarters' switchboard, have been snubbed.

Meany's reaction is no sudden political repulsion. McGovern has just not been his kind of people for years. Virtually, everyone has forgotten Meany's prediction back in August 1970. Then ' Meany, master of blunt prose, political pragmatism and an intuitive sense of strategy which has made him the world's most powerful labor leader, said the Democratic party was in shambles. It had disintegrated, he said. It was in the hands of ultras, he warned.

"Actually," he said, "the Democratic party ...is not the so-called liberal party that it was a few years ago. It almost has got to be the party of the extremists insofar as these so-called liberals or new lefts, or whatever you want to call them, have taken over the Democratic party....We are not concerned with reviving the party; we are concerned with a specific campaign for a specific individual.

"This is where we use whatever money we have got and what ever talents we have got....But these people (the Democrats) just seem to be falling apart over the country."

Meany's predictions seem to be an accurate preview of next October's headlines. McGovern flying political machine of teenagers and "old men" in their early 20s has ripped into and disaffected such anchored political machines as those in Chicago, Albany, Brooklyn, the Bronx, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, et al -- the vote-getting network which worked for Jack Kennedy and came within a few decimal points of electing Hubert Humphrey. Without these machines, and without labor's national Committee on Political Education (COPE), McGovernwill have to start from scratch -- and it will take an awful lot of scratch at that.

Should Meany boycott the convention,it would be the first time in at least 12 years. Back in '60, he was one of two labor chiefs to whom Bobby Kennedy came with the news of "Jack's" selection of Lyndon Johnson. In '64 he basked in the hot television lights in a prominent box seat. In '68, he operated out of Chicago's Hotel Drake virtually as Humphrey's one-man high command.

Despite McGovern's juggernaut, labor has at least 10 per cent of the Miami convention delegates -- about 335 with the count not complete. These are delegates, not alternates. Furthermore, the Hotel Americana up the beach will be packed with powerful national union chiefs whom many Congressmen depend on for support.

Without such backing, McGovern would need constant transfusions of money and manpower to run a campaign. In the crunch, Presidencies aren't won by teenage enthusiasm. Smoke-filled rooms may have gone out of style - but not out of power.

There are some who misunderstand the nature of labor's political strength. Such observers say the rank and file don't follow their national union leaders.

Maybe yes, Maybe no. The real significance of labor support is in the money, manpower, campaign mechanism and political expertise it can throw behind a candidate to win votes -- be these union labelled or not.

McGovern realizes this, of course, but there is more to his personal phone calls to the labor leader than the need for campaign support. McGovern, should he win the Presidency, will need labor far more after then before.

There is the matter of Congress and labor's influence there, in the key committees, especially with committee chairmen -- such as New Jersey's Sen. "Pete" (Harrison) Williams and Kentucky Rep. Carl Perkins. They head the labor committees in their respective chambers. They are as close to "the movement as Elizabeth Taylor is to Richard Burton. They control the handling of virtually all social legislation. They could balk a President every millimeter of the way for they would heed Meany, not McGovern.

So what Meany's movement does actually is most vital to a candidate whose party appears to confirm Meany's predictions of shambles and disintegration.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON -- Jackie Robinson, the graying hero of the baseball diamond, was too trusting when he took attorney General Richard Kleindienst and FBI chief Pat Gray at their word.

We had testified on Capitol Hill that Robinson wound up in the Secretive Service files after he "visited a White House gate one day to inquire about the President's black capitalism program."

Disturbed over our testimony, Robinson sought an explanation from the Justice Department. Afterward, he told the press that Kleindienst and Gray had called our report "a lot of bull."

It's Kleindienst and Gray who are spreading the bull. We have a copy of Jackie Robinson's Secret Service file, No. C02 39700 01911, which contains a full report on the White House gate incident. We have offered to send the old slugger a xeroxed copy.

The Secret Service keeps a computerized file of people who might pose a potential threat to the President. Jackie Robinson was included on January 25, 1969 -- five days after President Nixon took office.

Robinson joined a group of blacks who visited the northwest gate of the White House unannounced. The Secret Service prepared a memo on the incident, assigned Robinson a file number and fed his name into the computer. He was listed, however, as "not dangerous."

The report on Robinson's appearance at the gate was prepared by Special Agent Thomas N. Schriver, who wrote that Robinson and his associates "arrived at 4:00 p.m. at the northwest gate of the White House, and stated ...that they wanted to see the President....

"(Special Agent Charles) Zboril ...and John Price, White House staff, met with this group at the gate. Mr. Price invited Jackie Robinson, and only him, to meet him (Price) in the EOB (Executive Office Building). Robinson turned down this invitation.

"The group informed Mr. Price, the reason they wanted to see the President was that they wanted more jobs for the black people and also wanted the President to define black capitalism."

Footnote: A Justice Department spokesman explained that the Kleindienst Gray response to Robinson's inquiry was based upon information furnished the Secret Service. The Secret Service explained that Robinson's name was included in the data bank because he tried to call upon the President "without an appointment." But a spokesman added that the Secret Service does not consider Robinson a threat to the President.

WIFELY ADVICE

Mrs. Hubert Humphrey telephoned her husband the other day about his bruising campaign against George McGovern.

The two families had been the best of neighbors; Muriel Humphrey and Eleanor McGovern were fond friends; their children had grown up together. When George McGovern was sick, Herbert Humphrey had carried hot soup next door to his bedside.

"Look, daddy, I want you to carry on your campaign," Muriel told her husband gently. "But when it's all over, we must talk to the McGoverns and get together with them.

Not long afterward, Humphrey took McGovern aside for a few frank friendly words.

"You may feel that I've roughed you up on these issues," said Humphrey, "but my statements will look kindly compared to what Nixon and his people will say."

Humphrey suggested it was better for McGovern to have his views challenged now, so he could clarify them before meeting President Nixon in the finals.

"When this is over, if you win the nomination," said Humphrey, "you won't have to reach out. I'll be there."

MESSAGE FROM CARANDIRU

From out of grim, grey Carandiru prison in Brazil, a group of prisoners have sent us a poignant message through a network of intermediaries.

They learned in early June that they would be split up and transferred from Sao Paulo's Carandiru to other prisons throughout Brazil. Because they feared they were being transferred to break up their group and to kill them quietly and individually.

Their first appeals went to the director of the crowded prison and to the pastor of Sao Paulo's Roman Catholic Church, Archbishop Paulo Evaristo Arns, who had protected them in the past. They announced a hunger strike to protest the transfers.

But, as the smuggled message to us relates: "On June 7, three Dominican priests and three other political prisoners were transferred to Presidente Venceslau (prison) on the Mato Grosso border." The prison is distant from any large city.

"Other political prisoners were also transferred to unkown places....The Brazilian military dictatorship intends to assassinate in the dungeons all those prisoners thought to be radical leaders."

The prisoners added that the military, which controls Brazil's worst prisons, had refused to allow Archbishop Arns to talk with the prisoners.

When this avenue failed, they sent word to us that "the survival of all prisoners" depended on help from all those "who love justice."

Stripping of McGoverns Delegates Questioned

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal judge questioned today whether a constitutional issue was involved in the Democratic Credentials Committee's action stripping away more than half Sen. George S. McGovern's California delegates.

District Judge George L. Hart Jr. said, "It might not be cricket, it might even be dirty pool, but is it unconstitutional?"

Attorney Joseph L. Rauh Jr. seeking an injunction against the committee's action, maintained that a clear issue of due process of law as well as equal protection of the laws was at stake.

The request for a restraining order by the court was brought by McGovern supporters in California just a week before the Democratic National Convention is to convene in Miami Beach.

The Credentials Committee threw out the state's winertake-all primary and ordered the California delegates divided proportionately to the popular vote among the rival candidates, Hubert H. Humphrey, George C. Wallace and others.

A court recess was taken before Joseph A. Califano Jr. counsel for the Democratic National Committee, presented his arguments in support of the Credentials Committee's action.

The suit alleges that the Credentials Committee acted unconstitutionally when it overruled California's winner-tak eall primary, won by McGovern. The committee apportioned 151 of the state's 271 votes among presidential contenders Hubert H. Humphrey, George C. Wallace and others.

McGovern, still the easy front-runner with 1,276.9 committed votes with 1,509 needed for nomination, indicated Sunday he would be willing to compromise on the challenges to the California delegation, which he lost, and to the Illinois delegation, which his forces won.

"If I thought it would serve the interests of a stronger party and heal some of these wounds and not do any violence to the rules of the party, I would support a compromise," he said on ABC's "Issues and Ansers" program.

In an effort to beef up his strength in advance of Miami Beach, McGovern said he will seek a meeting with AFL-CIO President George Meany this week. Meany is officially uncommitted in the race for the nomination, although he is considered a supporter of Sen. Edmund S. Muskie.

The Credentials Committee, still meeting in Washington, refused convention seats to Mississippi's regular Democrats late Saturday. It voted unanimously to seat the 25-member Loyalist delegation, which also was seated in 1968.

The main charge was that the regular party failed to adopt the party's reform rules in picking delegates.

Woman Injured In Two Car Collision

DEXTER — A two-car accident occurred at Highway 25 and Stoddard street intersection Sunday at 3:22 p.m. when a car driven by Robert Wilkson, 58, of Puxico struck a car driven by Aubrey Chamberlain, 52, of South Haven, Mich.

The Wilkson vehicle, traveling north, failed to stop at the four-way stop and hit the Chamberlain automobile broadside as Chamberlain was traveling east through the intersection, according to the city police report.

Wilkson's wife suffered head injuries and bruises and was taken to Dexter Memorial Hospital.

Extensive damage was reported to the Wilkson car and the Chamberlain vehicle was described as a total loss.

Wilkson was issued a ticket for failure to stop at a stop sign.

Truman Enters Hospital

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman has entered Research Medical Center for routine examinations for what his personal doctor said was a "lower gastrointestin l problem."

The condition of the 88-yearold Truman, who was taken to the hospital last week after falling in his home, was termed satisfactory by his physician, Dr. Wallace H. Graham.

Dr. Graham said the former president's intestinal ailment is related to one which put Truman in the hospital for more than a week early in 1971.

Truman fell at his home last Tuesday. He spent an hour at the hospital having X-rays taken of his back after complaining of soreness.

Hospital spokesmen said the X-rays were negative.

The American Beauty rose is the official flower of Washington, D.C.

Mills Calls For Unity

POPLAR BLUFF — Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, called Saturday night for unity at the national Democratic convention at Maimi Beach next week.

Speaking to a half-filled auditorium gathered at Poplar Bluff Junior High School for the annual Truman Day rally, Mills said, " Unless we work together, what took place outside of the Convention Hall in 1968 may take place inside in 1972."

Mills said, "President Richard Nixon's re-election campaign will claim that everything good that has happened since 1968 will be because of the Republicans, and everything bad will be blamed on the Democratic Congress. It's the same campaign tactic that Truman used in 1948. The only difference is that Truman was right."

P. O. Designated First Class

NEW MADRID — New Madrid Post Office Saturday was designated a first class office as a result of increased revenues, Postmaster Clay Broughton announced.

Broughton said revenues had increased to $75,228.76 for the 1971 fiscal year, compared to $43,968.82 in fiscal 1968. Broughton attributed the substantial increase largely to the Noranda industrial complex.

No changes are expected in operations because of the new classification, Broughton said.

Buys hot-pants after losing 72 lbs

There's nothing like reaching 30 and weighing 214 pounds. When she got off the scale, Dee McManus said to herself: "You're over the hill, kid." But deep inside, she didn't believe it. She knew she had to try to look her age—by losing weight. That's when she tried Ayds' Reducing Plan Candy.

Dee wasn't born fat. Fact is, food didn't agree with her as an infant, so her mother had to force her to eat. Well she learned to like to eat, all right . . . too much.

Incredibly, at the age of 20, she married a man who was as thin as she was fat. But that didn't help her weight problem . . . and neither did having children. After each child was born, she'd gain instead of lose—until she was the biggest parent at Parent Teachers meetings.

But the day she heard a friend say, "You don't want to look like Dee, do you?", she decided she had to do something about her weight. She'd read about Ayds Reducing Plan Candy, so she bought a box. It contains vitamins and minerals, no drugs or artificial sweeteners. You take one or two Ayds as directed and it helps curb your appetite. Following the Ayds Plan, you eat less because you want less, so you lose weight.

Now, after losing 72 pounds on the Ayds Plan, Dee McManus has a figure good enough for hotpants. And she's going to be the first one in her home town of Butler, Pennsylvania, to wear them.

Ayds comes in four great flavors: chewy vanilla caramel, plain chocolate fudge, chocolate mint fudge, and butterscotch fudge, the latest Ayds flavor.

12 Women Added To State Demo Delegation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic Credentials Committee compromised a Missouri delegate challenge Saturday, adding 12 women to the state's 73- member delegation to the national convention but leaving its political coloration unchanged.

Women's Rights Advocates have maintained state party officials violated reform rules because women were only 29 per cent of the original delegation which is 52 per cent in the general population.

Under the compromise, agreed to unanimously by the credentials panel, the 12 additional women delegates with one- half vote each will be chosen by a caucus of the current delegates. The votes of 12 men will be reduced by half under the agreement.

The committee also heard complaints that supporters of Sen. George S. McGovern were discriminated against in Kansas City party caucuses. But the panel did not take up a resolution that would have added McGovern delegates to the state's delegation to the Democratic national Convention.

Robert C. Downs, arguing for Missouri regulars, contended the state party had taken all necessary steps to encourage the involvement of youth, women and minorities in party affairs.

Frank Susman, appearing for the women challengers, argued that "no affirmative action" had been taken by the party to insure equal participation by women.

Auntie's Handwriting Analysis Is Upsetting

Dear Ann Landers: I've been writing to a young man who is stationed in Germany. I have never met him but he is a friend of my cousin who is also stationed there. According to my cousin, this fellow is tops. We have been corresponding for five months and he sounds like my kind of man. We have exchanged snapshots, poetry and small gifts.

My aunt came to visit last week and my mom mentioned my "mail-order romance." Auntie asked if she could see a sample of my friend's handwriting because, according to her, handwriting can tell more about a person than months of face-to-face conversation. "A person can fool you by being a good actor, but his handwriting tells the real story," she announced with a tone of finality that has always made me dislike her.

I reluctantly showed Auntie three paragraphs of a recent letter. She bellowed, "Drop him. They way he dots his 'i's' shows he is impatient. The style of his 'm' indicates he is caustic and sharp-tongued. He does not close his 'o's' at the top, which means he is talkative, shallow, and probably a bore." I was crestfallen and annoyed. Is there anything to what she says? I am very upset. ---Need To Know In Jacksonville

Dear Jack: Handwriting analysis is more of a parlor game (and a business) than a science. It is not possible to analyze a person's personality or character by examining his handwriting. I have made this statement before and the results have been incredible. Thousands of letters from indignant handwriting "experts" poured in ---- nearly every one typewritten!

Dear Ann Landers: I see by your new picture that there is something shiny on your left shoulder that looks like a hearing aid receiver. You've been frank enough to tell your readers that you can't read without glasses, but your teeth are your own. Now, how about your hearing? Is that an aid or not? ---Nunuvmybizznizz

Dear Nun: My hearing is still pretty good. So far I can hear just about everything I want to.

That "shiny thing" is a gold pin, the center of which is the Vice Presidential seal --- a gift from Senator Hubert H. Humphrey on my 50th birthday.

Dear Ann: My husband and I work in the same building and have lunch together nearly every day in the building's cafeteria.

For several weeks now a certain secretary manages to be right behind my husband and she is full of small talk. She leans on him, suggests certain dishes, discourages others and has entirely too much to say.

I asked my husband who she is and he says he doesn't know her name or where she works. I believe him but she still makes me uneasy. I feel like a hypocrite being pleasant to this mouthy broad. She really spoils my appetite. Should I stop being sweet --- and two-faced, and tell her off? ---Irked

Dear Irked: The ideal solution would be to find another place to eat. If this is not convenient make up your mind to keep smiling or you might create a problem where none exists.

Maxvil Powers Card Streak

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Dal Maxvill, the St. Louis Cardinals journeyman infielder has long been tagged with one of baseball's most overused clinches: the good-field, no-hit shortstop.

The past two seasons his batting averages — .201 and .175— backed up that stereotype. And the 33-year-old Granite City, Ill., native views the matter dispassionately.

"I'm never going to be a .300 hitter," he says. "My value to the team is on defense. They pay me to make the plays," he noted, "but once in a while I get a streak going and help out with the bat."

Sunday was one of those "once-in-a-while" days. Maxvill, who's been displaced from shortstop by Ed "Spider" Crosby most of this season, drove in four runs with two hits in three times at bat to power the surging St. Louis Cardinals over struggling Philadelphia, 7-3.

Maxvill, who went into Sunday's game with a .238 batting average, doesn't think that's an embarrassing statistic.

"Check the averages, most of the good shortstops are hitting about the same," he said after Sunday's game. "I feel I can hit as good as most of them but I really don't worry too much about hitting."

For the Phils—who've lost four in a row—things began to go wrong when starting pitcher Gary Neibauer pulled a muscle in the second inning. He walked the bases full, then gave up a single to Maxvill that brought in a run.

One inning later, with the bases again loaded, Maxvill doubled over the head of rightfielder Oscar Gamble, sending home three more runs. Although Maxvill was out trying to stretch the hit into a triple, the Cards had a 5-0 lead—more than enough as a Philadelphia rally in the ninth was snuffed out by relief pitcher Diego Segui.

A crowd of 20,03 saw the streaking Cardinals register their 13th victory in 14 games Reggie Cleveland, who pitched the first eight innings, won his ninth game of the season against four defeats.

Don Money accounted for two Phillies' runs with an eighth-inning home run, ending a 16-inning Philadelphia scoring drought.

Royals Pay Large Bonus

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Kansas City Royals have defeated Notre Dame in a race for the services of Jamie Quirk.

Quirk, a 17-year-old shortstop from Whittier, Calif., signed a contract with the baseball Royals Saturday. He had earlier signed a letter of intent to play football at Notre Dame.

Quirk was the Royals' No. 1 selection in baseball's free agent draft in June. He worked out with the Royals last Wednesday.

The amount of the bonus given Quirk was not disclosed but a club spokesman said it was the most the Royals have ever paid a drafted player or more than $45,000.

Quirk will report Thursday to Billings, Mont., Kansas City's farm club in the rookie Pioneer League. He likely will see his first action as a pr o Friday.

Quirk, who signed a major league contract, said by telephone he was helped clubs wanted Quirk but hesitated because they believed he was so interested in football he could not be signed for baseball. The Royals were the 18th team to make a draft selection and when Quirk was still available, they grabbed him.

"This is a tremendous signing for us," said Lou Gorman, Kansas City's director of minor league operations and scouting. "We took a gamble we could sign him and it paid off."

Quirk said he had notified Notre Dame of his decision. He was to have quarterbacked the South in the North-South Shrine football game later this month.

Quirk is a left-handed hitter, stands 6-foot-4 and weighs 190 pounds. He lettered in baseball, football and basketball at St. Paul High School in Santa Fe Springs, Calif., just outside Whittier, and batted over .400 his last two seasons.

in his decision to forget football when he went to the locker room after his workout with the Royals.

"I found out the guys on the Royals were just normal people, not gods," he said. "I figured, heck, I can play with these guys."

Quirk said he also talked with Willie Lanier of the Kansas City Chiefs.

"He told me," Quirk explained, "of the possibility of getting injured during my four years of football in college. He helped me a lot with my decision."

MU Names New AD

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — Mel R. Sheehan, former football and track star at the University of Missouri, has been named athletic director at his alma mater. The appointment is effective Aug. 1.

Sheehan succeeds Wilbur N. "Sparky" Stalcup, who died April 21.

Sheehan, 48, was formerly superintendent of the Normandy School District near St. Louis. His appointment to the Missouri post was announced Saturday by Herbert W. Schooling, university chancellor.

The new athletic director had served in the Normandy district since 1952 and formerly coached and taught in high schools at Brookfield and Clayton.

A faculty-alumni committee seeking Stalcup's successor considered 35 candidates and recommended four to Schooling, a spokesman said.

Sheehan has been a Big Eight Conference football referee since 1960.

Picks Stars

WASHINGTON (AP) — Are Ted Williams and Joe DiMaggio the greatest hitter and outfielder ever to take to a baseball field? President Nixon thinks so.

Using the vernacular of a sports writer, which he often said he would like to have been, Nixon says on choosing his all-time best hitter: "Ted Williams has to get the nod.

"I am convinced that had he not been denied the opportunity of playing during the five years he served with distinction in World War II and Korea he would go down in the record books with Ty Cobb and Rogers Hornsby as one of the three greatest hitters of all time," says Nixon.

On DiMaggio, Nixon says the Yankee Clipper is remembered primarily as a great hitter.

"The many times I have seen him play at Yankee Stadium and at Griffith Stadium against the Senators I remember him even more as a superb fielder.

Nixon selected Williams, the former Boston Red Sox star who now manages the Texas Rangers, and DiMaggio in selecting his All-Time, All-star baseball team.

The President took few chances—he selected four teams for a total of 34 players—an American and National League team for the years betwen 1925 and World War II and similar squads for the years afterward.

After selecting the teams, carried exclusively by the Associated Press, he picked the best of the best, so to speak.

The Birds Unload

By THE ASSOCAITED PRESS

The reports of baseball's demise seem grossly exaggerated.

Berated by a series of polls and battered first by a preseason player strike and then by a rain-soaked month of June, the national pastime has somehow survived. Now it is July—baseball weather, at last—and Baltimore and Detroit are proving that if you give the fans something exciting to see, they'll come out to see it.

The Orioles and Tigers, battling for first place in the American League's East Division, climax a four-game showdown series in Detroit tonight. The first three meetings have attracted 119,500 fans to ancient Tiger Stadium—an average of a shade under 40,000 per game.

A crowd of 37,635 showed up Sunday and saw Baltimore trim the Tigers' lead down to one game with a 7-2 victory. If the Orioles can win tonight in the nationally televised fourth game of the nose-to-nose confrontation, it will leave the two clubs in a flatfooted tie at the top of the division. A Detroit victory would restore the twogame Tiger lead.

Elsewhere in the American League Sunday, New York swept a doubleheader from Cleveland 6-1 and 5-2, Boston took a pair from Milwaukee 154 and 3-2 in 11 innings, Minnesota split a twin bill with Chicago, winning 6-4 before losing 2-1, Texas and Kansas City divided two games, the Rangers winning the first 7-5 and the Royals taking the second 8-3, and Oakland trimmed California 31.

In the National League, Pittsburgh defeated Chicago 7-4, Montreal tripped New York 4-3, St. Louis whipped Philadelphia 7-3, Houston nipped Atlanta 5-4, Cincinnati routed San Diego 122 and San Francisco swamped Los Angeles 9-3.

Sunday's version of the Oriole-Tiger showdown was somewhat less dramatic than Detroit's 2-0 victory Saturday, which ended with a leaping catch by Jim Northrup that turned what looked like a game-ending double-play instead.

Boog Powell crashed a threerun homer in the first inning and Don Buford added a tworun shot in the fifth to key the Baltimore victory.

The Yankees ran their winning streak to five games and extended Cleveland's losing streak to eight with their doubleheader sweep a gainst the Indians.

Fritz Peterson scattered nine hits to capture the opener with Bobby Murcer leading the attack. Murcer doubled and scored in the first inning and later drove in three runs with a single and sacrifice fly.

In the nightcap, Ron Blomberg hit a towering home run and contributed one of four consecutive sixth inning singles that put New York in front for keeps.

The Red Sox unloaded for 18 hits against Milwaukee in the first game of their doubleheader with Rico Petrocelli and Reggie Smith driving in five runs apiece.

Ben Oglivie, who had three hits in the first game romp, contributed three more in the nightcap as Boston completed the sweep.

Richie Scheinblum, the American League's leading hitter, had six hits in nine at bats for Kansas City in the doubleheader split with Texas. Cookie Rojas also had six hits for the Royals.

McCovey Blasts Grand Slam

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There's a new line in the National League record book today and a new team in the East Division pennant race.

San Francisco's Willie McCovey blasted a record-tying 14th career grand slam home run Sunday in the Giants' 9-3 rout of Los Angeles while the streaking St. Louis Cardinals, 15½ games out of first place exactly one month ago, made it six victories in a row and 21 of 26 with a 7-3 trouncing of Philadelphia and trail front-running Pittsburgh by a mere 6½ games.

Elsewhere, Pittsburgh downed the Chicago Cubs 7-4, Montreal edged the New York Mets 4-3, Cincinnati swamped San Diego 12-2 and Houston nipped Atlanta 5-4.

In the American League, Baltimore trimmed Detroit 7-2, the New York Yankees took two from Cleveland 6-1 and 5-2, Boston swept Milwaukee 15-4 and 3-2 in 11 innings, Oakland shaded California 3-1, Minnesota won its opening game from Chicago 6-4 but the White Sox took the nightcap 2-1 and Kansas City split a pair with Texas, losing 7-5 in 10 innings and then winning 8-3.

"That's pretty good company," McCovey said upon learning that his 14 grand slams match the career marks of Hank Aaron and the late Gil Hodges.

McCovey's blast, off Dodger ace Don Sutton in the seventh inning, was a rare oppositefield drive to left following singles by Tito Fuentes, Don McMahon and Jim Howarth. Dave Kingman followed with his 18th homer as the Giants broke the baseball game open.

It was the Giants' fourth consecutive victory and the fourth loss in a row for the Dodgers, who fell seven games off the pace in the NL West.

The Cardinals, whose hot month has lifted them from last place to fourth, just one game behind the Cubs, got eight-hit pitching from Reggie Cleveland and two relievers and four runs batted in from Dal Maxvill, three on a bases-loaded double. Cleveland had a shutout until the eighth when Don Money homered for the Phils.

Bob Robertson and Manny Sanguillen homered for the Pirates as they continued their mastery of the Cubs—seven of nine this season—despite a Chicago triple play in the seventh on Sanguillen's sharp bouncer to third.

Robertson, dead last among major league hitters with at least 125 at-bats, also singled home the first run and has raised his average 40 points—to .156—since June 15 with two of his four homers and 10 of his 16 runs batted in during that stretch.

The Mets fell one game behind Pittsburgh when rookie Bob Rauch, making only his second major league appearance, issued four walks in the ninth inning, the last to Ron Fairly with two out forcing in Montreal's winning run.

Two singles by Fairly helped the Expos to a 3-0 lead but the Mets, blanked until the ninth by Bill Stoneman on four hits, tied it on two doubles, an error, sacrifice fly and Willie Mays' twoout pinch single.

Gary Nolan became the NL's first 11-game winner with seventh-inning help from Clay Carroll and home Doug Rader, who singled, took second on an error and third on an infield out.

gave the Braves an early 2-0 lead but the Astros took the lead in the second on a two-run shot by pitcher Dave Roberts.

The Braves tied it on runscoring singles by Sonny Jackson in the seventh and Paul Casanova in the eighth before Helms' fly scored runs by Cesar Geronimo, Johnny Bench—his 21st—and Tony Perez. The Reds wrapped it up by blasting San Diego pitching for eight runs in the eighth inning. Nate Colbert homered for the Padres.

Houston remained one-half game behind the Reds in the West by edging Atlanta on Tommy Helms' eighth-inning sacrifice fly. Aaron's 655th career homer

Sikeston Eliminated

CHAFFEE — Old man weather teamed with Chaffee's 13-year-old All-Star team to eliminate Sikeston from the state baseball tournament over the weekend. The double elimination event was forced into single elimination after rain washed out Saturday and Sunday action.

Tournament play resumed at 1 p.m. today with Booneville and Lebanon starting the top of the fourth inning, tied 2-2. Chaffee battled Carthage at 2 p.m. The winners are scheduled to collide for the championship at 6:30.

Lindy Duncan checked Sikeston's bats to four hits, but sloppy fielding also hurt the Sikeston stars, who committed three errors in a 7-1 loss to Chaffee Friday night.

Isaac Defends Title

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — It might be easier to pick second place in the Firecracker 400 stock car race Tuesday than to single out the winner.

In 16 events on the rich Winston Cup circuit this year, either Bobby Allison of Hueytown, Ala., or Richard Petty of Randleman, N. C., has been runnerup 11 times.

Between them they've also won eight events. Allison is the leading money winner of 1972 with $113,335 and Petty is his closest pursuer with $112,035 in the bank.

Throw in the Wood brothers' Mercury driven early in the season by A. J. Foyt of Houston and more recently by David Pearson of Spartanburg, S. C., and you have an odds-on quinnela of first and second place favorites.

Foyt won two races and Pearson three in the Mercury. Foyt was second once. Petty, now in a Dodge but earlier with a Plymouth, has five firsts and three second places. Allison, consistently at the wheel of a Chevrolet, has won three races. He has finished second eight times.

Bobby Isaac of Catawba, N. C., starting on the pole position in a Dodge he qualified at 186.277 miles an hour, has won once and finished second twice.

"One thing that happened last year isn't likely to repeat," vowed the 37-year-old former Grand National champion. "We won't have the hood coming up on us. Harry Hyde (crew chief) has added a fourth pin."

Isaac won last year's Fourth of July feature with his hood flapping under only one of its three restraining pins and threatening to flop up against his windshield on the final laps.

He started in 21st place as a late qualifier but benefited by mechanical troubles that struck down other contenders.

Maybe it's just a matter of taste, but some woodchucks always attack a garden while others seem satisfied with clover in the back forty. Clover-eaters often insure their lives, while gourmet types live dangerously. Who needs an animated mowing machine in a bean row?

What's The Law?

The Case Of The Bout With Fate

By Jack Strauss, LL. B.

Maggie lived in an apartment house where there were more intruders than tenants. They ranged from robbers and burglars plying their trade to drug addicts whose launching pads were located under staircases. Consequently, when Maggie found her bedroom window broken, which window opened onto a fire escape, she immediately requested her landlord to repair it. And, despite the fact that the landlord was required by local law to keep his building and all parts thereof in good repair, not a finger was lifted to comply with Maggie's numerous requests.

Then, one night, an intruder stuck his hand through Maggie's broken window, unlatched the lock, entered the room and, finding Maggie asleep, raped her.

Seeking recourse for the intercourse, Maggie sued her landlord for damages.

"It was all his fault" she complained in court, "for not fixing the window."

"Nonsense," was the landlord's response. "When a criminal wants to get into an apartment, a locked window isn't going to keep him out. Consequently, Maggie's being raped wasn't due to the unrepaired window. It was due to fate."

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you hold the landlord liable for Maggie's bout with "fate"?

This is how the judge ruled: YES! The judge held that a reasonable person in the landlord's situation, particularly considering the undesirables who frequented his building, should have anticipated that the opening in the fire escape window was an invitation to a criminal entry into Maggie's apartment. Consequently, concluded the judge, in view of the circumstances that prevailed, the failure to repair the broken window was a "cause" of the instrusion so as to make the landlord liable. (Based upon a 1971 New York Court of Claims Decision)

Motorists Warned Of 61 Hazards

A special word of warning was issued by Troop E of the State Highway Patrol for motorists traveling Highway 61 between Fruitland and Perryville, a stretch of highway which has consistently been the scene of more accidents per mile than any otherin the Troop E area, as a busy Fourth of July weekend begins.

Accident figures for the Fourth of July period, on the average the worst holiday traffic period of the year, are expected to be inflated this year by the fact that the count will be for a 102-hour period rather than 78 hours. The count started at 6 p.m. Friday and runs until midnight Tuesday.

The patrol warned motorists in particular of a point on Highway 61 in Perry County which has been the scene of more traffic accidents than any other spot in Troop E. The point is located two-tenths of a mile north of Route P on Highway 61 at the bridge over Cinque Hommes Crrek.

During a three-year period from 1969-71, the patrol recorded 47 accidents, 19 injuries and three fatalities occurring at the one point. To date this year there have been five accidents, six injuries and no fatalities at the bridge.

The patrol points to the narrowness of the bridge, which is approximately 18 feet wide, as one of thy reasons it is so dangerous.

"When two large trucks are approaching the bridge from opposite directions they will slow down so as not to meet on the bridge," Lt. L. L. Murphy, officier in charge of special services for Troop E, said. "Cars behind them sometimes fail to notice or slow down enough, thus causing many accidents."

He added that the heavy traffic along Highway 61 will be eliminated to a great extent with completion of Interstate 55.

"Highway 61 will see heavier traffic this weekend than in previous years because of the near completion of the interstate and will be one of the highways to watch," Lt. Murphy said. "The stretch of Highway 61 in Perry and Cape Counties has been the scene of more accidents per mile than any other stretch of road in Troop E with the exception of Highway 60 from Charleston to Cairo, Ill."

He added that six persons have been killed thus far this year in accidents on I-55 and Highway 61 in the two counties.

Sgt. Joe G. Matthews, safety officer for Troop E, warns motorists they should be "physically and mentally alert" before attempting to drive. They should also be conscious of speed, because high speed is the major cause of serious injuries and fatalities, he said.

Hypointed out that 40 per cent of the accident in the Troop E area during 1971 were single-vehicle accidents, both on interstates as well as other routes. "This certainly points out a lack of concentration an; attention on the driver's part," he said.

Accident totals for past Fourth of July traffic counts have shown a slight decrease over the years. Figures for the past five years follow: 1967, 59 accidents, 60 injuries and five fatalities; 1968, 47, 53 and five; 1969, 44, 44 and one; 1970, 49, 52 and two, and 1971, 45, 32 and two.

With the traffic count period running 24 hours longer this year than for past Fourth of July traffic counts and than the Memorial Day weekend count, accident totals are expected to be higher.

Vancouver in British Columbia handled 35 million tons of dry cargo in 1971, more than any other port on North America's west coast.

Highlights & Sidelights

from Our State Capitol

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. -- At first glance, the Dawson Building on East High Street in Jefferson City looks like the other business places that line the street several blocks from the State Capitol.

However, unlike the other buildings, the Dawson Buildings's ground floor is not occupied by shops. Behind the white drapery that covers two huge front windows is the Missouri State Library.

As unobtrusive and obscure as the offices it occupies, the State Library will soon be housed in a building all its own and its scope will be broadened if a Missouri legislator has his way.

Rep. Robert Young (R-Carthage) has proposed recently that the Missouri State Library take a role comparable to that of the Library of Congress. Young, who says he will introduce legislation facilitating these changes, is a member of the State Library Advisory Committee, a citizen's group.

The Library has two functions at the present time, according to Charles O'Halloran, secretary of the State Library Commission and state librarian. They are to serve as a library in Jefferson City in a governmental context and to serve public libraries throughout Missouri, much in the way the State Board of Education is linked to school districts throughout the state.

O'Halloran said the library maintains a collection of 200,000 volumes in 18,000 square feet of space. Four years ago, he noted, the library had only half that amount.

If the library were to expand to a legislative reference library, he said, it would require three or four times the space it has now and a doubling of the present staff of 40.

"We have a program which does provide reference services to the legislature," O'Halloran said. "A large number of legislators, about half, called on this service."

"The Legislature needs access to information for problems they're called upon to deal with. We're some distance from the Capitol and we're somewhat crowded, but it's better than it used to be."

The library, which also serves as a depository for publications of the U. S. Government Printing Office, maintains collections of records of several state agencies, although the bulk of that task is done by the Missouri State Historical Society and the State Archives.

A Day To Be Proud Of . . .

How could anyone predict what that document being posted would mean to mankind? Since then, the Declaration of Independence has changed history for the better. For the message of that document was destined to enter the hearts and minds of freedom-loving men everywhere.Let us all, as Americans, pause Tuesday and be thankful for that declaration that allows us to live in a free nation. A happy Fourth of July!

On I-55 Near Portageville

Five Burn To Death In Auto Crash

PORTAGEVILLE--Five persons died in a fiery four-car accident at a police roadblock at 5 p.m. Sunday on Interstate 55 just north of the Highway 162 interchange at Portageville.

They were the only fatalities so far among 47 accidents on Bootheel roads since the July 4 weekend began.

Dead are the driver, John Edward Cooper, 24; John Henry Jackson, 23; Frank Lee Canady, 21; and Ann Jenette Jackson, 2, all of St. Louis; and Janice Mae Thompson, 12, of Shelby, Miss.

The police had thrown up a roadblock to stop a car being chased by Pemiscot County Deputy Sheriff Cleo Smith of Wardell. The car was driven by Alex Junior Burden, 24, of St. Louis.

The chase developed after Deputy Smith was called to Hometown, two miles south of Wardell, where Burden was reportedly causing a disturbance. Smith had Burden follow him back to Wardell in his car. When the deputy went to call Wardell Marshall Gene Young to put Burden in jail, Burden fled in his car. Smith returned to his car and began pursuing Burden.

Burden's brother James had followed the two men to Wardell in another car. He continued following the men during the high speed chase, at speeds in excess of 100 miles per hour, until he was stopped by Young.

Smith chased Burden onto I-55 and when he still could not stop him, the deputy radioed for a roadblock.

The roadblock was set up by Portageville Police Chief Joe Moore.

The Cooper car and one driven by James Whitehead, Jr., 30, of St. Louis, had slowed for the roadblock when Burden's car slammed into the rear of Cooper's car. The Cooper vehicle then rammed the Whitehead car and burst into flames. Whitehead's auto then hit the Police Chief's car.

Burden is being held for careless and imprudent driving and investigation of manslaughter. Deputies were reportedly searching his car today for narcotics because Burden had been acting strangely but had not been drinking.

In other accidents, two people were slightly injured in a two-car accident on East Malone in Miner.

Taken to Missouri Delta Community Hospital with minor injuries were Charles Evans, 32, of Charleston, driver on one car, and Judy Lewis, 24, of Sikeston, a passenger in the other.

According to the patrol, a car driven by Melvin Lewis, 25, of Sikeston ran a stop sign at Route H and struck the side of the Evans car.

Patty Kimball, 13, of Portageville was treated for minor injuries at Pemiscot County Memorial Hospital in Hayti after she made a U-turn on her motorcycle in front of a car driven by Panzie Cook, 16, of Portageville about 1:30 p.m. on a gravel road three miles southeast of Marston. Miss Cook was unable to avoid hitting the motorcycle, according to the patrol.

James E. DeMann, 24, of Charleston was injured at 5:30 a.m. Sunday on Interstate 57 at the Highway 105 interchange at Charleston.

He was treated for cuts on the nose at Missouri Delta Community Hospital in Sikeston.

According to the patrol, DeMann fell asleep at the wheel and struck a light pole.

William Richard Robinson, 18, of Fisk was injured in a one-car accident at 1 a.m. Sunday on Route FF one-quarter mile from Highway 60 near Fisk.

He was taken to Lucy Lee Hospital in Poplar Bluff with a concussion.

According to the patrol, Robinson was speeding, missed a curve and overturned three times in a field.

Man Flees Jail At N. Madrid

NEW MADRID — Dale Gream, 30, of Portageville escaped from the county jail at 8:30 p.m. Sunday after digiging through a brick wall with some type of rod, according to Deputy Flip Dees.

Gream was arrested Friday in St. Louis on charges of kidnaping and breaking and entering in connection with an alleged abduction two weeks ago of his former sister- in- law, Kathy Smith, in Portageville.

Miss Smith reported to officers that when she entered a mobile home at 10 p.m. where she lived with her sister, Mrs. Arvetta Gream, Gream was in the trailer under a bed. She charged he grabbed her and forced her to accompany him on foot across town where they got into a pickup truck. Gream then started making a search for his wife. After driving to Caruthersville and around the area until after midnight, Miss Smith said they returned to the trailer where Gream held her hostage until 6 a.m. when he left.

Gream, who uses an alias of Dale Taylor, is under $5,000 bond pending Circuit Court action on a kidnaping charge and $500 bond for exhibiting a dangerous and deadly weapon in connection with an alleged kidnaping of his former wife March 24, 10 days after the couple was divorced.

He is described as being five feet, nine inches tall and weighing 145 pounds. He was wearing a blue- striped shirt and blue jeans at the time of his escape.

THE LINN SMITH home at 188 Tanner St. escaped serious damage when a tree fell across it, during Saturday's windstorm. The car, owned by Smith's son Richard, was smashed by the tree.

A CAR OWNED by Richard Smith of 188 Tanner St. was smashed in his driveway when a large tree fell across it during Saturday's windstorm.

Mixed Activities Planned For 4th

The Fourth of July holiday should be a busy one for area residents as a flurry of planned activities gets under way. Five area counties are planning picnics, barbecues, horse shows, ball games, dances and, of course, fireworks displays.

Scott County kicks off its Independence Day celebrations with a fireworks display tonight at the Kingsway Plaza Mall parking lot in Sikeston. The display, which is sponsored by mall merchants, will begin at 9:15 p.m. at the southwest corner of the parking lot.

Mississippi County also begins its celebration today with the Charleston Knights of Columbus sponsoring their 18th annual Fourth of July barbecue at the K. C. Hall on South Sixth Street. Barbecued pork ribs and chicken will be available by the sandwich or pound all day Monday and Tuesday.

East Prairie's Lion's Club will hold its annual street dance tonight on Main Street. The Sharecroppers, a local band, will play for the dance which begins at 8 p.m.

All other events are planned for Tuesday. A county by county breakdown of planned activities follows:

SCOTT COUNTY — Chaffee Jaycees are welcoming the Fourth of July by joining Cape Girardeau Jaycees in their Independence Day activities at Cape Girardeau.

Oran's Knights of Columbus are sponsoring an all day until midnight picnic at the K. C. grounds. A family- style meal will be served from 11:30 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. Afternoon fireworks will begin at 3:45 p.m. and evening fireworks will begin at 10:45 p.m. Outdoor games will be held during the afternoon and a dance in the evening.

NEW MADRID COUNTY — Risco will hold its annual picnic and barbecue with service beginning at 11:00 a.m. Food and games will be available throughout the afternoon and juke box music with dancing at night. Little Miss and Little Mr. Risco, Junior Miss Risco and Miss Risco will all be crowned at 7 p.m. A console stereo and consolation prizes will be awarded at the close of the royalty contest and Risco Fire Department will conduct a fireworks display.

Portageville Jaycees will sponsor their annual Fourth of July celebration and city centennial commemoration at the city park beginning at noon. Barbecued pork and chicken will be available by the pound or sandwich. A beard- growing contest will be judged at 4 p.m. Prizes will be awarded in a costume contest and greased chicken race. Other activities include concession stands, pony rides, country store and a giant fireworks display. A dance at the armory begins at 9 p.m. with music by a country band.

The New Madrid Country Club will have a fireworks display on the club grounds at 9 p.m.

PEMISCOT COUNTY — Hayti Jaycees will sponsor their ninth annual Fourth of July barbecue and picnic beginning at noon at Northside Park. The Miss Missouri Bootheel beauty contest will be held at 2 p.m. Festivities will include free entertainment, hourly attendance prizes, a bake sale, concessions, refreshments and novelties.

STODDARD — Dexter Rotary Club will sponsor its second annual old- fashioned July Fourth event in East Park beginning at 2 p.m. and ending at 10 p.m. with a fireworks display. Pony rides, refreshments, horseshoe pitching and various races and contests with prizes to the winners will be conducted throughout the afternoon. There will be a brief introduction of area political candidates at 7 p.m. At 8 p.m. Dexter and Bloomfield Saddle Clubs will participate in a flag parade followed by the Order of Arrow, Boy Scout Indian dances directed by Walter

Woman Held In Stabbing

CHARLESTON — Miss Fannie Ellis, 40, of Chicago, Ill., is being held in Mississippi county jail for investigagion of the stabbing of Henry George, 52, of Charleston.

According to Sheriff W. J. (Pedro) Simmons, George was stabbed under the left arm with a small knife at approximately 6:30 p.m. Saturday following an argument between George and Miss Ellis. The incident occurred in George's room on South Locust street. Miss Ellis was arrested at the scene by city policemen.

George remains a patient at Missouri Delta Community Hospital in Sikeston.

FCC Says See-Mor Granted Permission To Pick Up KETC

By RON PORTER

See-Mor Cable- TV was granted permission to pick up station KETC from St. Louis nearly two years ago, according to the Federal Communications Commission.

See-Mor officials have said previously that they requested permission to broadcast KETC and KPLR, but that the request was denied. According to the FCC, the cable company requested permission to broadcast only KETC. Permission was granted on Nov. 16, 1970, as part of the same order granting See-Mor the right to carry WSIU and WKMU.

The FCC records were relayed to The Daily Standard in June through the office of Rep. Bill Burlison.

See-Mor had listed KETC and KPLR on its proposed programming schedule when it was bidding for the city franchise at the $5 subscription rate. Both channels were dropped from the company's schedule when it received the bid. See-Mor is now offering them again at $6. The City Council approved the one- dollar rate increase June 5, apparently without knowing of See-Mor's earlier promise.

Two See-Mor officials, Fred Reynolds, of Topeka, Kan., president of the firm, and Tom Gleason, manager, met with City Manager Jim Huff last week just before Huff left for San Francisco.

Huff had written a letter to See-Mor asking for an analysis of the new services and the economic reasons for them, plus a list of shareholders in the company.

During the meeting, Huff says Reynolds handed him a copy of the company's profit and loss statement. Before Huff had a chance to look at it, Reynolds took it back saying it was his only copy. He asked Gleason to make a copy and give it to Huff. Huff, who returned Thursday

Voter Registration Deadline Approaches

CHARLESTON — Mississippi County voter registration book will close July 11 and will not be reopened until after the Aug. 8 primary election. Anyone wishing to vote in the primary election must be registered prior to the July 11 deadline.

To be eligible for registration, one must be 18 years old by Nov. 7 and must be a resident of Missouri and Mississippi County for 60 days.

Voters may register at the county clerk's office in the courthouse at Charleston and at LaWanda Douglas Insurance Agency in East Prairie during business hours.

Registered voters are reminded if they have changed their address since the last election, or if they have married and changed their name, they must bring their registration up to date by filing out a change card at either of the registration places, according to Arthur Lee Goodin, Mississippi County clerk.

A SHED OWNED by Bob Matthews near the highway 60- 61 intersection was destroyed by high winds Saturday. A barn, left, was blown off its foundation.

Widespread Property Damage

High Winds And Rain Sweep Through Area

High winds and heavy rains swept through the Sikeston area Saturday evening doing widespread, though mostly minor property damage.

The winds brought down power lines that left some people without service until 9:30 p.m. Sunday. Dick Inman, Director of the Sikeston Light and Water company, said he didn't know how many lines had been downed, but he said service has been restored. Work crews are now replacing makeshift repairs made during the storm.

The windstorm began around 5:30 p.m. and lasted about an hour.

Missouri Utilities lines were also brought down during the storm and repaired soon afterwards, according to company spokesmen. Scott-New Madrid -Mississippi Electrical Cooperative reported this morning the company was still having trouble with its lines.

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company reported today that it had five poles broken and 150 subscribers out of service. A company spokesman said work crews have been brought in from Jackson and a majority of the lines should be repaired by tonight. All lines will be restored by Thursday, he said.

Trees and branches fell all over the city. At the Linn Smith home at 188 Tanner St., a large tree fell on the house and a car. The roof of the car was crushed.

Other trees fell against houses, but apparently did little damage.

Cars stalled in streets flooded by heavy rain totaling 1.27 inches on Saturday and 1.06 inches on Sunday. Firemen had to rescue a woman in a car in the 100 block of North West Street after she stalled in the street and trees and power lines fell across her car.

Firemen made 17 runs during Saturday night's storm. Most of the calls were for fires caused by downed electrical lines. At Crenshaw Distributing Company low voltage from loss of power caused an electrical motor to overheat and smoke.

Winds broke out windows and tore up awnings throughout the area. A masonry block storage building owend by A.C. James, located north of the Ramada Inn on Route H was completely destoryed.

Two barns were damaged by the winds. A portion of a barn owned by Robert Greene blew across Albes Road, snapping a utility pole in the process. Another barn, owned by Bob Matthews, was blown off its foundation, and a shed next to it was destroyed. The barn is located just south of Sikeston.

An area one-mile wide and seven miles long just south of Sikeston received crop damage from hail, wind and water.

The city announced today that it will collect branches brought down during the storm if they are placed next to the street.

No serious damage from the weekend storm was reported in the Dexter area.

Missouri Utilities in Dexter reported only localized power failures in Dexter, rural Dudley, Bernie, rural Essex and Fisk, caused by limbs falling on service lines.

The roof of a station wagon owned by Chris Dillie of 111 S outhwest Main in Dexter was caved in on one side after a tree was blown down on the car.

Freak Storm Kills Two

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A freakish storm that nurtured a tornado or high winds resulted in two deaths and damave to a marina at the Lake of the Ozarks Sunday night while a series of thunderstorms raked other sections of central Missouri and eastern Kansas.

The National Weather Service reported a tornado touched down near Laurie, Mo., on the lake's Gravois arm at 7:50 p.m. At the time, a Moberly, Mo., couple and the woman's mother "evidently were docking their boat," reported Sheriff J. T. Hull of Morgan County.

Killed was Robert J. Quade, 45, and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Ada Belle Combs, 71, Grandview, Mo. Quade's wife, Marjorie, 45, who was found wedged between a boat and the dock, was hospitalized at Sedalia, where she was reported in fair condition.

"I don't believe it was a tornado because all the debris was right there ... everything was confined to that cove," Hull said. "It demolished this one section of the dock" at the Blue Anchor Marina.

He said, "I expect all the damage together would be about $135,000 to $150,000. About five or six boats were damaged."

One witness, Bill Williams of Kansas City, said he and his wife rode out the tornado in their 20-foot boat inside the cove.

"The tornado gave almost no warning," he said. "The sky was fairly clear, then clouds and rain came, and then the tornado — all ovec the space of maybe 15 minutes."

At Sunrise Beach, about five miles south of Laurie, winds were clocked at 80 miles per hour at about the time the marina was hit. Some telephone line trouble was reported.

Persons in many areas of west-central Missouri and eastern Kansas spent the better part of the early evening under thunderstorm warnings, all related to a cool front, the weather service said.

A tornado was reported southwest of Topeka, Kan., by a highway patrolman quoted by the weather service as saying the twister spun his car around nearly three times on the Kansas Turnpike.

INDEPENDENCE DAY — THEN AND NOW

Probably no national holiday holds deeper meaning for Americans than Independence Day, the annual observance of the adoption of the Declaration of Independence by the Continental Congress in Philadelphia on July 4, 1776.

It is a day for commemoration, certainly, but beyond the mere symbolic ceremonies marking the 196th anniversary of American's proclamation of freedom, it is a time for examination of the principles which led to this deliverance from tyranny.

"When in the course of human events ..."

Virtually every schoolboy knows the words. But how many schoolboys, or adults either, have taken the time to reflect, to fully realize that these first seven words of the Declaration introduce a fundamental law which states that individuals have a God-given right to govern themselves in a free society?

"We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights ..."

This is indisputable, but today we take our freedom for granted.

When the writers of the Declaration of Independence were framing their proclamation the American colonies were living under the heavy hand of British oppression. Freedom was a hard-won thing, coming only after a bitter struggle against overwhelming odds in the war for independence.

Now is a time for citizens to renew their awareness of their heritage. Just as important, it's an occasion for all Americans to review the principles set down by their forefathers for a clear understanding of what liberty is all about.

The concept of freedom outlined in the Declaration of Independence does not include the privilege of abusing the rights of others. There is no inalienable right, as some contend today, for the minority to tyrannize the majority.

Those forces which wrongly claim the constitutional privilege of disrupting society by ignoring laws would destroy the very freedom which the colonists set out to provide.

The Fourth of July is many things to many people. It's flags and parades for some, firecrackers and picnics for others. It's a holiday, a day of celebration. But most importantly, it's freedom of choice. Independence Day is a shining symbol of the freest society ever to exist.

The Declaration of Independence is one of history's most exceptional documents. It's a forceful call for freedom, but for freedom with a purpose. It's a demand for government by the people, regulated by laws arrived at through a democratic process.

The Constitution of the United States is the solid foundation on which our democracy is built, but the Declaration of Independence is the cornerstone, the most basic element.

"And for the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes, and our sacred honor."

How many persons today would be willing to sign a document which concluded with these words? What percentage of Americans now would be willing to make the same sacrifices that their forefathers did in the United Colonies?

These questions seem particularly relevant at a time in our history when misguided factions seem bent on eroding our freedom through perverse definitions of individual rights. Today more than ever in our nation's almost two centuries we need to strengthen our resolve to fight against those destructive forces which threaten to undermine liberty with their self-styled "freedom's." The richest heritage on earth must not be allowed to waste away from apathetic inattention.

Symbols play a very important part in our lives.The values we most esteem as Americans are symbolized by our flag. It is through symbols that man lives and loves. Those ages are the noblest which place the highest value on symbolic worth as a means of indicating real values.

Every day in most of the schools of America our children recite their pledge of allegiance to our flag and to our country. Nowhere is the flag more honored than by our military forces throughout the world. It should be honored in every home in the United States. Freedom that is taken for granted will be taken away.

More than 60 million pleasure boats will be on our waterways this summer. All operators should know the rules of water safety. Last year more than 1500 persons were killed in boating accidents.

Keep highway rules in mind: the boat on the right has the right of way. Motor boats should give way to row boat and sailing craft.

Bring an anchor, oars, hook, first-aid kit, tools, fire extinguisher and extra lines. Make sure your lights are functioning at night.

Beware of overloading, standing up in small boats, smoking while fueling, or using a motor too powerful for your boat. Have a life jacket for everyone on board. Mediocre swimmers should wear them at all times.

A little planning can make this a thoroughly enjoyable summer of boating. The U. S. Weather Service will keep you posted via radio. The Coast Guard, Red Cross and other groups offer safety courses. Hit a home run! Touch home safely.

EAST GERMAN REFORMS

The East German communists have long been regarded as the most dogmatic and stricture-bound of all Marxists. Now, after two decades of talk, they are taking practical steps to fulfill that old maxim: From each according to his abilities, to each according to his needs. As of Saturday, July 1, the top salaries earned by any individual may not exceed 2,000 Marks (about $550) a month. The average wage earner's income remains about 750 Marks (close to $200).

Although East Germany has the highest standard of living of any Communist state, this new law will hit scientists, architects, artists, doctors, entertainers, journalists, businessmen and even top-echelon bureaucrats. Some East Germans, like physicist Manfred von Ardenne, became millionaires because of patents or royalties. In The Other Germany John Dornberg wrote that, "East Germany certainly has strata of society almost indistinguishable from traditional classes" because of the affluent life of the upper-income groups. At special duty-free shops, this new class could buy anything from hosiery to French cognac at cut-rate prices, provided the purchases were made in foreign currency.

The new government of Erich Honecker, which took over from Walter Ulbricht last year, is also acting to wipe out the surviving privately owned enterprises. All 3,200 remaining private firms, such as small dress manufacturers or small-scale optical firms, must sell out to the government. Similarly, there are some 5,600 semi-private concerns with partial state ownership which must sell all remaining interests to the state. The private sector formed about 14.3 per cent of East Germany's gross industrial production and employed 416,000 workers at the end of 1971. Whether the switch will have a drastic effect on the East German economy remains to be seen. However, to counter any possible disaffection in the ranks of the enterprising, Honecker has promised a big increase to those living on pensions.

The East German government contends, in effect, that the country has never had it so good. It announced last month that production of foodstuffs and consumer goods had increased by 7 per cent between the first quarter of 1971 and the first quarter of 1972. Still, the Honecker regime balks at the idea of permitting free travel to the West. It is feared that thousands of East Germans would settle permanently in West Germany in search of higher living standards.

CANADA THE UNEASY

Parisians maintain the French spoken there is incomprehensible. The British see the country as a pale imitation of the United States. And Americans like to invest their money or evade the draft there. The country, of course, is Canada. And the question is whether it will survive or dissolve like a gigantic spoonful of sugar in the so-called American melting pot. That, anyway, is the fear of Canadian nationalists. They see America's $34 billion investment and its virtual ownership of important segments of the economy as a sort of Trojan Horse.

Independent, troubled, vibrant and uncertain as ever, Canadians celebrate their country's 105th birthday, Dominion Day, on Saturday, July 1. Fear of the United States in 1867 was a major factor in the decision of four British colonies -- Ontario, Quebec, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia -- to join together in a nucleus Canadian Dominion. Uneasiness about the superpower to the south is still an element of the Canadian character.

Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau has other problems. While unemployment appears to be easing, it was still 5.8 per cent during April. The aspirations of French Quebec for more autonomy remain an issue. These are unpalatable foods for thought as Trudeau ponders when to hold the next election. Observers in Ottawa believe the Prime Minister will go to the people next October, but he could legally delay the vote until the spring of 1973.

Whenever the campaign begins, it's a safe bet that economic nationalism will be an issue. Trudeau's Liberal government recently introduced a bill which would lead to a screening of future American takeovers of established Canadian firms. What the nationalists wanted, though, was a tougher stand against all further foreign investment. The next election could decide whether Canada is willing to accept higher unemployment and the lower standard of living that a cutoff of foreign investment would entail.

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The temperature was in the 90s, the sun was enoug to blister granite and the humidity could drown a dryland Texan.

It was not a time to leave an air-conditioned home and go downtown to stand around and watch people on a Saturday.

It turned out to be worth the effort and discomfort, and it's too bad that all those people who believe the world is going to hell in a handbasket weren't there to see it.

It was the last day of Explo 72, that Crusade for Christ affair that brought thousands of young people to Dallas from all over the world.

The final event was a long session of music called the Jesus Music Festival. The scene was a complex of expressways easily blocked off on a Saturday.

Someone had hammered together a large stage, and the concrete and grass-covered open places sloped gently, creating a natural amphitheater.

Official estimates placed the crowd at 150,000 to 200,000. That was at any given moment.

Hundreds always were arriving and other leaving, like ocean waves coming and going, and probably twice the listed figures were there at one time or another.

It wasn't the mere massiveness of the crowd that was impressive, remarkable as it was.

It was the young people.

They sat around in groups on the grass or the concrete, talking with each other, letting the music from the performers on the stage pour over them.

The core of this crowd had been in Dallas six days but gave no evidence of fatigue or discomfort. The young people were still smiling, relaxed, with a sort of inner clam.

Almost shocking to a longtime city resident was the numerous occasions when some pretty young chick would walk past, smile, and say "hello."

The first time or two this happened, I was so shocked I couldn't respond, then I got into the spirit of this fellowship and smiled and helloed along with the best.

A person attending the music festival and not wearing an Explo tag was fair game immediately for the young people who wanted to tell persons about Christ.

They were not aggressive, however. A pair would walk up and smile and ask something like, "do you know Christ?"

No matter the answer, the young people would present a piece of literature and offer to answer questions. A few words and they would drift on.

Oh, there were some troubles. But considering everything, the whole affair went beautifully.

THE WALLACE VOTE

While Alabama Gov. George Wallace may be a long way from winning the Democratic Party's presidential nomination, there is far less doubt about the attention which the party's old pros are going to have to give him

Wallace was expected to win handily in Michigan's primary on Tuesday, and was given an edge in Maryland. What surprised may election watchers was the magnitude of his victories in both states. Even if you grant some sympathy votes as a result of the attempt on Governor Wallace's life on the eve of these two primaries, he still has stunned Senators George Mc Govern and Hubert Humphrey. These two are now heading toward California for face-to-face combat over the biggest of the state delegations for the Democrats' July convention.

But even after California, and the other primaries yet to be held, Wallace will be a force to reckon with. The nomination may not be within his reach, but a lot of American voters, North and South, have now let the politicians know that the things George Wallace talks about — school busing, taxation, big government - are the issues on which they, too, feel strongly.

Whoever wins the Democratic nomination will not likely forget the Wallace vote, and what it says.

LAW OFFICERS NEED HELP

Do you like to go camping? Then wake up. One of the nation's vital resources is in danger–our recreation areas.

Mr. Joseph W. Bennett, in his recently published and revealing book, "Vandals Wild," has stated that by the year 2000",,We'll have 16 to 20 million destructive vandals desecrating our parks and waterways..." Presently 95 per cent of the population is allowing 5 per cent of the population to desecrate and ruin things that are meaningful to us. Widespread destruction done out of pure cussedness is common. In one Oregon county, officials became so outraged over vandalism in a park that they closed it. The park was re-opened after one resident volunteered information leading to the arrest and prosecution of the vandals involved.

It is up to the private citizen to help do something about this deliberate, lawless and costly destruction. If a cure is not found, closure of our public playgrounds, and recreation areas will be in order. No one wishes to pay taxes to provide vandals with property to destroy. So concerned citizens should help the authorities apprehend the destroyers.

A story in the Jamaica, New York Long Island Press contains a message that is particularly timely. Carrying overtones of an earlier era...the era of the great migrations to America from overseas...this newspaper story also describes an incident typical of present day America.It tells of two young boys whose mothers sent them to this country from Cuba eight years ago. As immigrants, they buckled down to the job of learning to live in a new country. They became excellent students in school, learned English, made many American friends and adapted themselves to life in a new country, just as did millions of other immigrants seeking freedom generations ago. Because of their scholastic excellence, both young men were presented with opportunities for advanced education through scholarships.

These boys have found, as have countless others, the way to educational opportunity made possible by many companies and businesses which provide assistance through scholarships to young people showing superior ability in school. In the instance of the two young Cubans, each has received a $1,000 scholarship from the nation's largest trading stamp concern.. scholarships that are available to the children of employees of the company. An interesting aspect of these scholarships is that they come from a business firm that represents one of the oldest segments of an industry that is largely responsible for the successful development of modern mass production and distribution...promotion and advertising.

QUICK ACTION IN A WORTHY CAUSE

Concerned citizens still have time and opportunity to save our Constitution and preserve our Republic. News reports show that many of the delegates to the Democratic National Convention in Miami Beach starting July 10 are being challenged. Committees should be formed without a delay.

Members of each committee will decide the goals and run the committee. The best people will influence the committees for the greatest good of the Republic. One committee will no doubt cooperate with other committees of like philosophy.

People trying to act alone feel ineffective and one big advantage of operating with a committee is to get away from this feeling. A spokesman for a group will get a better hearing from delegates and political leaders at the conventions than one lonely citizen can.

Delegates to conventions have neighbors and would be influenced constructively by a good committee of neighbors communicating their desires to their delegates. Members of committees can enjoy thoroughly informing themselves and attain their wishes for good government by selecting the most capable public servants available. Governors, U.S. Senators, Congressmen, Mayors, Sheriffs, distinguished religious leaders, entertainers, leaders of women's activities, and wise businessmen can organize and conduct their committee's operations. These committees can do more to save our Republic and our Constitution, which have afforded more liberty and better living, through the profit motive, for more people than has ever before been known in the history of mankind. It is late and getting later. HLH.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON -- Jackie Robinson, the graying hero of the baseball diamond, was too trusting when he took attorney General Richard Kleindienst and FBI chief Pat Gray at their word.

We had testified on Capitol Hill that Robinson wound up in the Secretive Service files after he "visited a White House gate one day to inquire about the President's black capitalism program."

Disturbed over our testimony, Robinson sought an explanation from the Justice Department. Afterward, he told the press that Kleindienst and Gray had called our report "a lot of bull."

It's Kleindienst and Gray who are spreading the bull. We have a copy of Jackie Robinson's Secret Service file, No. C02 39700 01911, which contains a full report on the White House gate incident. We have offered to send the old slugger a xeroxed copy.

The Secret Service keeps a computerized file of people who might pose a potential threat to the President. Jackie Robinson was included on January 25, 1969 -- five days after President Nixon took office.

Robinson joined a group of blacks who visited the northwest gate of the White House unannounced. The Secret Service prepared a memo on the incident, assigned Robinson a file number and fed his name into the computer. He was listed, however, as "not dangerous."

The report on Robinson's appearance at the gate was prepared by Special Agent Thomas N. Schriver, who wrote that Robinson and his associates "arrived at 4:00 p.m. at the northwest gate of the White House, and stated ...that they wanted to see the President....

"(Special Agent Charles) Zboril ...and John Price, White House staff, met with this group at the gate. Mr. Price invited Jackie Robinson, and only him, to meet him (Price) in the EOB (Executive Office Building). Robinson turned down this invitation.

"The group informed Mr. Price, the reason they wanted to see the President was that they wanted more jobs for the black people and also wanted the President to define black capitalism."

Footnote: A Justice Department spokesman explained that the Kleindienst Gray response to Robinson's inquiry was based upon information furnished the Secret Service. The Secret Service explained that Robinson's name was included in the data bank because he tried to call upon the President "without an appointment." But a spokesman added that the Secret Service does not consider Robinson a threat to the President.

WIFELY ADVICE

Mrs. Hubert Humphrey telephoned her husband the other day about his bruising campaign against George McGovern.

The two families had been the best of neighbors; Muriel Humphrey and Eleanor McGovern were fond friends; their children had grown up together. When George McGovern was sick, Herbert Humphrey had carried hot soup next door to his bedside.

"Look, daddy, I want you to carry on your campaign," Muriel told her husband gently. "But when it's all over, we must talk to the McGoverns and get together with them.

Not long afterward, Humphrey took McGovern aside for a few frank friendly words.

"You may feel that I've roughed you up on these issues," said Humphrey, "but my statements will look kindly compared to what Nixon and his people will say."

Humphrey suggested it was better for McGovern to have his views challenged now, so he could clarify them before meeting President Nixon in the finals.

"When this is over, if you win the nomination," said Humphrey, "you won't have to reach out. I'll be there."

MESSAGE FROM CARANDIRU

From out of grim, grey Carandiru prison in Brazil, a group of prisoners have sent us a poignant message through a network of intermediaries.

They learned in early June that they would be split up and transferred from Sao Paulo's Carandiru to other prisons throughout Brazil. Because they feared they were being transferred to break up their group and to kill them quietly and individually.

Their first appeals went to the director of the crowded prison and to the pastor of Sao Paulo's Roman Catholic Church, Archbishop Paulo Evaristo Arns, who had protected them in the past. They announced a hunger strike to protest the transfers.

But, as the smuggled message to us relates: "On June 7, three Dominican priests and three other political prisoners were transferred to Presidente Venceslau (prison) on the Mato Grosso border." The prison is distant from any large city.

"Other political prisoners were also transferred to unkown places....The Brazilian military dictatorship intends to assassinate in the dungeons all those prisoners thought to be radical leaders."

The prisoners added that the military, which controls Brazil's worst prisons, had refused to allow Archbishop Arns to talk with the prisoners.

When this avenue failed, they sent word to us that "the survival of all prisoners" depended on help from all those "who love justice."

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

McGovern's Personal Phone Calls: labor chiefs may boycott democrats' nominating convention.

WASHINGTON — In effect, cigar-munching labor chief George Meany may put the national Democratic convention on the political unfair list and boycott it.

Though the stocky, immovable leader of 13.6 million AFL—CIO workers has train reservations for Miami on July 7, there are reliable reports that he wants to have "nothing to do with (George) McGovern"; he still believes it possible to stop the Senator on a third ballot if there is one and therefore is pushing the Credentials Committee fight, especially on the California delegate issue, against the South Dakotan -- and if it appears that McGovern has the nomination locked up before the first gavel, Meany won't attend.

And from deep inside the sanctum also comes word that the national labor leader, who has been the steel backbone of the Democratic party for well over a decade, has been refusing to answer McGovern's personal phone calls. The front-runer has been eager to reach him. But as of this writing Meany hasn't budged.

Of course, calls from McGovern's super-stragegist Frank Mankiewicz and campaign coordinator Gary Hart, who have been bombarding the national labor headquarters' switchboard, have been snubbed.

Meany's reaction is no sudden political repulsion. McGovern has just not been his kind of people for years. Virtually, everyone has forgotten Meany's prediction back in August 1970. Then Meany, master of blunt prose, political pragmatism and an intuitive sense of strategy which has made him the world's most powerful labor leader, said the Democratic party was in shambles. It had disintegrated, he said. It was in the hands of ultras, he warned.

"Actually," he said, "the Democratic party ...is not the so-called liberal party that it was a few years ago. It almost has got to be the party of the extremists insofar as these so-called liberals or new lefts, or whatever you want to call them, have taken over the Democratic party....We are not concerned with reviving the party; we are concerned with a specific campaign for a specific individual.

"This is where we use whatever money we have got and what ever talents we have got....But these people (the Democrats) just seem to be falling apart over the country."

Meany's predictions seem to be an accurate preview of next October's headlines. McGovern flying political machine of teenagers and "old men" in their early 20s has ripped into and disaffected such anchored political machines as those in Chicago, Albany, Brooklyn, the Bronx, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, et al -- the vote-getting network which worked for Jack Kennedy and came within a few decimal points of electing Hubert Humphrey. Without these machines, and without labor's national Committee on Political Education (COPE), McGovernwill have to start from scratch -- and it will take an awful lot of scratch at that.

Should Meany boycott the convention,it would be the first time in at least 12 years. Back in '60, he was one of two labor chiefs to whom Bobby Kennedy came with the news of "Jack's" selection of Lyndon Johnson. In '64 he basked in the hot television lights in a prominent box seat. In '68, he operated out of Chicago's Hotel Drake virtually as Humphrey's one-man high command.

Despite McGovern's juggernaut, labor has at least 10 per cent of the Miami convention delegates -- about 335 with the count not complete. These are delegates, not alternates. Furthermore, the Hotel Americana up the beach will be packed with powerful national union chiefs whom many Congressmen depend on for support.

Without such backing, McGovern would need constant transfusions of money and manpower to run a campaign. In the crunch, Presidencies aren't won by teenage enthusiasm. Smoke-filled rooms may have gone out of style - but not out of power.

There are some who misunderstand the nature of labor's political strength. Such observers say the rank and file don't follow their national union leaders.

Maybe yes, Maybe no. The real significance of labor support is in the money, manpower, campaign mechanism and political expertise it can throw behind a candidate to win votes -- be these union labelled or not.

McGovern realizes this, of course, but there is more to his personal phone calls to the labor leader than the need for campaign support. McGovern should he win the Presidency will need labor far more after then before.

There is the matter of Congress and labor's influence there, in the key committees especially with committee chairmen -- such as New Jersey's Sen. "Pete" (Harrison Williams and Kentucky Rep Carl Perkins. They head the labor committees in their respective chambers. They are as close to "the movement a Elizabeth Taylor is to Richar Burton. They control the handling of virtually all socia legislation. They could balk President every millimeter of the way for they would hee Meany, not McGovern.

So what Meany's movemer does actually is most vital to candidate whose party appea to confirm Meany's prediction of shambles and disintegratio

Dyke Named To New Madrid School Post

Glen Dyke

HOWARDVILLE — Glenn Edward Dyke, Saturday, became administrative assistant in charge of the New Madrid unit of New Madrid County R-1 Enlarged School District.

Dyke replaced Sam J. Bodine, who became director of the Vocational- Technical Skills Center on the same day. Dyke will continue to have his office at New Madrid High School. Bodine will have his office at the central administrative offices in Howardville until the new complex is completed.

Announcement of the changes was made by Dr. George S. Reuter, Jr., superintendent.

Dyke, 48, is a native of Gilbertsville, Ky. He graduated with a bachelor of science degree in secondary education and the master of arts in education degree in administration -- both degrees awarded from Murray State University at Murray, Ky. He has completed 30 semester hours at University of Tennessee at Memphis above the master's degree. He is married to the former Miss Sarah Todd, who is a high school social science teacher at New Madrid High School. They are parents of four children: Patricia, Glenn E., Jr., Pamela and Todd.

Dyke has been with the New Madrid school system since 1949, and is a Mason and Baptist.

The Prayer

from

The Upper Room

Hallow yourselves . . . and keep yourselves sacred . . . ; keep my rules obediently: I am the Eternal who hallows you. (Leviticus 20:7-8, Moffatt)

PRAYER: O God, we thank Thee for Thy faith in us. Forgive us our sins. Restore us through Him who taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven, hallowed by thy name. Thy kingdom come, thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil. For thine is the kingdom, and the and the power, and glory power, and glory forever. Amen.

Stripping of McGoverns Delegates Questioned

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal judge questioned today whether a constitutional issue was involved in the Democratic Credentials Committee's action stripping away more than half Sen. George S. McGovern's California delegates.

District Judge George L. Hart Jr. said, "It might not be cricket, it might even be dirty pool, but is it unconstitutional?"

Attorney Joseph L. Rauh Jr. seeking an injunction against the committee's action, maintained that a clear issue of due process of law as well as equal protection of the laws was at stake.

The request for a restraining order by the court was brought by McGovern supporters in California just a week before the Democratic National Convention is to convene in Miami Beach.

The Credentials Committee threw out the state's winertake-all primary and ordered the California delegates divided proportionately to the popular vote among the rival candidates, Hubert H. Humphrey, George C. Wallace and others.

A court recess was taken before Joseph A. Califano Jr. counsel for the Democratic National Committee, presented his arguments in support of the Credentials Committee's action.

The suit alleges that the Credentials Committee acted unconstitutionally when it overruled California's winner-tak eall primary, won by McGovern. The committee apportioned 151 of the state's 271 votes among presidential contenders Hubert H. Humphrey, George C. Wallace and others.

McGovern, still the easy front-runner with 1,276.9 committed votes with 1,509 needed for nomination, indicated Sunday he would be willing to compromise on the challenges to the California delegation, which he lost, and to the Illinois delegation, which his forces won.

"If I thought it would serve the interests of a stronger party and heal some of these wounds and not do any violence to the rules of the party, I would support a compromise," he said on ABC's "Issues and Ansers" program.

In an effort to beef up his strength in advance of Miami Beach, McGovern said he will seek a meeting with AFL-CIO President George Meany this week. Meany is officially uncommitted in the race for the nomination, although he is considered a supporter of Sen. Edmund S. Muskie.

The Credentials Committee, still meeting in Washington, refused convention seats to Mississippi's regular Democrats late Saturday. It voted unanimously to seat the 25-member Loyalist delegation, which also was seated in 1968.

The main charge was that the regular party failed to adopt the party's reform rules in picking delegates.

Woman Injured In Two Car Collision

DEXTER — A two-car accident occurred at Highway 25 and Stoddard street intersection Sunday at 3:22 p.m. when a car driven by Robert Wilkson, 58, of Puxico struck a car driven by Aubrey Chamberlain, 52, of South Haven, Mich.

The Wilkson vehicle, traveling north, failed to stop at the four-way stop and hit the Chamberlain automobile broadside as Chamberlain was traveling east through the intersection, according to the city police report.

Wilkson's wife suffered head injuries and bruises and was taken to Dexter Memorial Hospital.

Extensive damage was reported to the Wilkson car and the Chamberlain vehicle was described as a total loss.

Wilkson was issued a ticket for failure to stop at a stop sign.

Truman Enters Hospital

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman has entered Research Medical Center for routine examinations for what his personal doctor said was a "lower gastrointestin l problem."

The condition of the 88-yearold Truman, who was taken to the hospital last week after falling in his home, was termed satisfactory by his physician, Dr. Wallace H. Graham.

Dr. Graham said the former president's intestinal ailment is related to one which put Truman in the hospital for more than a week early in 1971.

Truman fell at his home last Tuesday. He spent an hour at the hospital having X-rays taken of his back after complaining of soreness.

Hospital spokesmen said the X-rays were negative.

The American Beauty rose is the official flower of Washington, D.C.

12 Women Added To State Demo Delegation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic Credentials Committee compromised a Missouri delegate challenge Saturday, adding 12 women to the state's 73- member delegation to the national convention but leaving its political coloration unchanged.

Women's Rights Advocates have maintained state party officials violated reform rules because women were only 29 per cent of the original delegation which is 52 per cent in the general population.

Under the compromise, agreed to unanimously by the credentials panel, the 12 additional women delegates with one- half vote each will be chosen by a caucus of the current delegates. The votes of 12 men will be reduced by half under the agreement.

The committee also heard complaints that supporters of Sen. George S. McGovern were discriminated against in Kansas City party caucuses. But the panel did not take up a resolution that would have added McGovern delegates to the state's delegation to the Democratic national Convention.

Robert C. Downs, arguing for Missouri regulars, contended the state party had taken all necessary steps to encourage the involvement of youth, women and minorities in party affairs.

Frank Susman, appearing for the women challengers, argued that "no affirmative action" had been taken by the party to insure equal participation by women.

Mills Calls For Unity

POPLAR BLUFF — Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, called Saturday night for unity at the national Democratic convention at Maimi Beach next week.

Speaking to a half-filled auditorium gathered at Poplar Bluff Junior High School for the annual Truman Day rally, Mills said, " Unless we work together, what took place outside of the Convention Hall in 1968 may take place inside in 1972."

Mills said, "President Richard Nixon's re-election campaign will claim that everything good that has happened since 1968 will be because of the Republicans, and everything bad will be blamed on the Democratic Congress. It's the same campaign tactic that Truman used in 1948. The only difference is that Truman was right."

P. O. Designated First Class

NEW MADRID — New Madrid Post Office Saturday was designated a first class office as a result of increased revenues, Postmaster Clay Broughton announced.

Broughton said revenues had increased to $75,228.76 for the 1971 fiscal year, compared to $43,968.82 in fiscal 1968. Broughton attributed the substantial increase largely to the Noranda industrial complex.

No changes are expected in operations because of the new classification, Broughton said.

Buys hot-pants after losing 72 lbs

There's nothing like reaching 30 and weighing 214 pounds. When she got off the scale, Dee McManus said to herself: "You're over the hill, kid." But deep inside, she didn't believe it. She knew she had to try to look her age—by losing weight. That's when she tried Ayds' Reducing Plan Candy.

Dee wasn't born fat. Fact is, food didn't agree with her as an infant, so her mother had to force her to eat. Well she learned to like to eat, all right . . . too much.

Incredibly, at the age of 20, she married a man who was as thin as she was fat. But that didn't help her weight problem . . . and neither did having children. After each child was born, she'd gain instead of lose—until she was the biggest parent at Parent Teachers meetings.

But the day she heard a friend say, "You don't want to look like Dee, do you?", she decided she had to do something about her weight. She'd read about Ayds Reducing Plan Candy, so she bought a box. It contains vitamins and minerals, no drugs or artificial sweeteners. You take one or two Ayds as directed and it helps curb your appetite. Following the Ayds Plan, you eat less because you want less, so you lose weight.

Now, after losing 72 pounds on the Ayds Plan, Dee McManus has a figure good enough for hot-pants. And she's going to be the first one in her home town of Butler, Pennsylvania, to wear them.

Ayds comes in four great flavors: chewy vanilla caramel, plain chocolate fudge, chocolate mint fudge, and butterscotch fudge, the latest Ayds flavor.

Ann Landers

Auntie's Handwriting Analysis Is Upsetting

Dear Ann Landers: I've been writing to a young man who is stationed in Germany. I have never met him but he is a friend of my cousin who is also stationed there. According to my cousin, this fellow is tops. We have been corresponding for five months and he sounds like my kind of man. We have exchanged snapshots, poetry and small gifts.

My aunt came to visit last week and my mom mentioned my "mail-order romance." Auntie asked if she could see a sample of my friend's handwriting because, according to her, handwriting can tell more about a person than months of face-to-face conversation. "A person can fool you by being a good actor, but his handwriting tells the real story," she announced with a tone of finality that has always made me dislike her.

I reluctantly showed Auntie three paragraphs of a recent letter. She bellowed, "Drop him. They way he dots his 'i's' shows he is impatient. The style of his 'm' indicates he is caustic and sharp-tongued. He does not close his 'o's' at the top, which means he is talkative, shallow, and probably a bore." I was crestfallen and annoyed. Is there anything to what she says? I am very upset. ---Need To Know In Jacksonville

Dear Jack: Handwriting analysis is more of a parlor game (and a business) than a science. It is not possible to analyze a person's personality or character by examining his handwriting. I have made this statement before and the results have been incredible. Thousands of letters from indignant handwriting "experts" poured in ---- nearly every one typewritten!

Dear Ann Landers: I see by your new picture that there is something shiny on your left shoulder that looks like a hearing aid receiver. You've been frank enough to tell your readers that you can't read without glasses, but your teeth are your own. Now, how about your hearing? Is that an aid or not? ---Nunuvmybizznizz

Dear Nun: My hearing is still pretty good. So far I can hear just about everything I want to.

That "shiny thing" is a gold pin, the center of which is the Vice Presidential seal --- a gift from Senator Hubert H. Humphrey on my 50th birthday.

Dear Ann: My husband and I work in the same building and have lunch together nearly every day in the building's cafeteria.

For several weeks now a certain secretary manages to be right behind my husband and she is full of small talk. She leans on him, suggests certain dishes, discourages others and has entirely too much to say.

I asked my husband who she is and he says he doesn't know her name or where she works. I believe him but she still makes me uneasy. I feel like a hypocrite being pleasant to this mouthy broad. She really spoils my appetite. Should I stop being sweet --- and two-faced, and tell her off? ---Irked

Dear Irked: The ideal solution would be to find another place to eat. If this is not convenient make up your mind to keep smiling or you might create a problem where none exists.

Maxvil Powers Card Streak

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Dal Maxvill, the St. Louis Cardinals journeyman infielder has long been tagged with one of baseball's most overused clinches: the good-field, no-hit shortstop.

The past two seasons his batting averages — .201 and .175— backed up that stereotype. And the 33-year-old Granite City, Ill., native views the matter dispassionately.

"I'm never going to be a .300 hitter," he says. "My value to the team is on defense. They pay me to make the plays," he noted, "but once in a while I get a streak going and help out with the bat."

Sunday was one of those "once-in-a-while" days. Maxvill, who's been displaced from shortstop by Ed "Spider" Crosby most of this season, drove in four runs with two hits in three times at bat to power the surging St. Louis Cardinals over struggling Philadelphia, 7-3.

Maxvill, who went into Sunday's game with a .238 batting average, doesn't think that's an embarrassing statistic.

"Check the averages, most of the good shortstops are hitting about the same," he said after Sunday's game. "I feel I can hit as good as most of them but I really don't worry too much about hitting."

For the Phils—who've lost four in a row—things began to go wrong when starting pitcher Gary Neibauer pulled a muscle in the second inning. He walked the bases full, then gave up a single to Maxvill that brought in a run.

One inning later, with the bases again loaded, Maxvill doubled over the head of rightfielder Oscar Gamble, sending home three more runs. Although Maxvill was out trying to stretch the hit into a triple, the Cards had a 5-0 lead—more than enough as a Philadelphia rally in the ninth was snuffed out by relief pitcher Diego Segui.

A crowd of 20,03 saw the streaking Cardinals register their 13th victory in 14 games Reggie Cleveland, who pitched the first eight innings, won his ninth game of the season against four defeats.

Don Money accounted for two Phillies' runs with an eighth-inning home run, ending a 16-inning Philadelphia scoring drought.

Royals Pay Large Bonus

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Kansas City Royals have defeated Notre Dame in a race for the services of Jamie Quirk.

Quirk, a 17-year-old shortstop from Whittier, Calif., signed a contract with the baseball Royals Saturday. He had earlier signed a letter of intent to play football at Notre Dame.

Quirk was the Royals' No. 1 selection in baseball's free agent draft in June. He worked out with the Royals last Wednesday.

The amount of the bonus given Quirk was not disclosed but a club spokesman said it was the most the Royals have ever paid a drafted player or more than $45,000.

Quirk will report Thursday to Billings, Mont., Kansas City's farm club in the rookie Pioneer League. He likely will see his first action as a pr o Friday.

Quirk, who signed a major league contract, said by telephone he was helped clubs wanted Quirk but hesitated because they believed he was so interested in football he could not be signed for baseball. The Royals were the 18th team to make a draft selection and when Quirk was still available, they grabbed him.

"This is a tremendous signing for us," said Lou Gorman, Kansas City's director of minor league operations and scouting. "We took a gamble we could sign him and it paid off."

Quirk said he had notified Notre Dame of his decision. He was to have quarterbacked the South in the North-South Shrine football game later this month.

Quirk is a left-handed hitter, stands 6-foot-4 and weighs 190 pounds. He lettered in baseball, football and basketball at St. Paul High School in Santa Fe Springs, Calif., just outside Whittier, and batted over .400 his last two seasons.

in his decision to forget football when he went to the locker room after his workout with the Royals.

"I found out the guys on the Royals were just normal people, not gods," he said. "I figured, heck, I can play with these guys."

Quirk said he also talked with Willie Lanier of the Kansas City Chiefs.

"He told me," Quirk explained, "of the possibility of getting injured during my four years of football in college. He helped me a lot with my decision."

MU Names New AD

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — Mel R. Sheehan, former football and track star at the University of Missouri, has been named athletic director at his alma mater. The appointment is effective Aug. 1.

Sheehan succeeds Wilbur N. "Sparky" Stalcup, who died April 21.

Sheehan, 48, was formerly superintendent of the Normandy School District near St. Louis. His appointment to the Missouri post was announced Saturday by Herbert W. Schooling, university chancellor.

The new athletic director had served in the Normandy district since 1952 and formerly coached and taught in high schools at Brookfield and Clayton.

A faculty-alumni committee seeking Stalcup's successor considered 35 candidates and recommended four to Schooling, a spokesman said.

Sheehan has been a Big Eight Conference football referee since 1960.

Picks Stars

WASHINGTON (AP) — Are Ted Williams and Joe DiMaggio the greatest hitter and outfielder ever to take to a baseball field? President Nixon thinks so.

Using the vernacular of a sports writer, which he often said he would like to have been, Nixon says on choosing his all-time best hitter: "Ted Williams has to get the nod.

"I am convinced that had he not been denied the opportunity of playing during the five years he served with distinction in World War II and Korea he would go down in the record books with Ty Cobb and Rogers Hornsby as one of the three greatest hitters of all time," says Nixon.

On DiMaggio, Nixon says the Yankee Clipper is remembered primarily as a great hitter.

"The many times I have seen him play at Yankee Stadium and at Griffith Stadium against the Senators I remember him even more as a superb fielder.

Nixon selected Williams, the former Boston Red Sox star who now manages the Texas Rangers, and DiMaggio in selecting his All-Time, All-star baseball team.

The President took few chances—he selected four teams for a total of 84 players—an American and National League team for the years betwen 1925 and World War II and similar squads for the years afterward.

After selecting the teams, carried exclusively by the Associated Press, he picked the best of the best, so to speak.

The Birds Unload

By THE ASSOCAITED PRESS

The reports of baseball's demise seem grossly exaggerated.

Berated by a series of polls and battered first by a preseason player strike and then by a rain-soaked month of June, the national pastime has somehow survived. Now it is July—baseball weather, at last—and Baltimore and Detroit are proving that if you give the fans something exciting to see, they'll come out to see it.

The Orioles and Tigers, battling for first place in the American League's East Division, climax a four-game showdown series in Detroit tonight. The first three meetings have attracted 119,500 fans to ancient Tiger Stadium—an average of a shade under 40,000 per game.

A crowd of 37,635 showed up Sunday and saw Baltimore trim the Tigers' lead down to one game with a 7-2 victory. If the Orioles can win tonight in the nationally televised fourth game of the nose-to-nose confrontation, it will leave the two clubs in a flatfooted tie at the top of the division. A Detroit victory would restore the twogame Tiger lead.

Elsewhere in the American League Sunday, New York swept a doubleheader from Cleveland 6-1 and 5-2, Boston took a pair from Milwaukee 15-4 and 3-2 in 11 innings, Minnesota split a twin bill with Chicago, winning 6-4 before losing 2-1, Texas and Kansas City divided two games, the Rangers winning the first 7-5 and the Royals taking the second 8-3, and Oakland trimmed California 31.

In the National League, Pittsburgh defeated Chicago 7-4, Montreal tripped New York 4-3, St. Louis whipped Philadelphia 7-3, Houston nipped Atlanta 5-4, Cincinnati routed San Diego 12-2 and San Francisco swamped Los Angeles 9-3.

Sunday's version of the Oriole-Tiger showdown was somewhat less dramatic than Detroit's 2-0 victory Saturday, which ended with a leaping catch by Jim Northrup that turned what looked like a game-tying home run into a game-ending double-play instead.

Boog Powell crashed a threerun homer in the first inning and Don Buford added a tworun shot in the fifth to key the Baltimore victory.

The Yankees ran their winning streak to five games and extended Cleveland's losing streak to eight with their doubleheader sweep a gainst the Indians.

Fritz Peterson scattered nine hits to capture the opener with Bobby Murcer leading the attack. Murcer doubled and scored in the first inning and later drove in three runs with a single and sacrifice fly.

In the nightcap, Ron Blomberg hit a towering home run and contributed one of four consecutive sixth inning singles that put New York in front for keeps.

The Red Sox unloaded for 18 hits against Milwaukee in the first game of their doubleheader with Rico Petrocelli and Reggie Smith driving in five runs apiece.

Ben Oglivie, who had three hits in the first game romp, contributed three more in the nightcap as Boston completed the sweep.

Richie Scheinblum, the American League's leading hitter, had six hits in nine at bats for Kansas City in the doubleheader split with Texas. Cookie Rojas also had six hits for the Royals.

McCovey Blasts Grand Slam

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There's a new line in the National League record book today and a new team in the East Division pennant race.

San Francisco's Willie McCovey blasted a record-tying 14th career grand slam home run Sunday in the Giants' 9-3 rout of Los Angeles while the streaking St. Louis Cardinals, 15½ games out of first place exactly one month ago, made it six victories in a row and 21 of 26 with a 7-3 trouncing of Philadelphia and trail front-running Pittsburgh by a mere 6½ games.

Elsewhere, Pittsburgh downed the Chicago Cubs 7-4, Montreal edged the New York Mets 4-3, Cincinnati swamped San Diego 12-2 and Houston nipped Atlanta 5-4.

In the American League, Baltimore trimmed Detroit 7-2, the New York Yankees took two from Cleveland 6-1 and 5-2, Boston swept Milwaukee 15-4 and 3-2 in 11 innings, Oakland shaded California 3-1, Minnesota won its opening game from Chicago 6-4 but the White Sox took the nightcap 2-1 and Kansas City split a pair with Texas, losing 7-5 in 10 innings and then winning 8-3.

"That's pretty good company," McCovey said upon learning that his 14 grand slams match the career marks of Hank Aaron and the late Gil Hodges.

McCovey's blast, off Dodger ace Don Sutton in the seventh inning, was a rare oppositefield drive to left following singles by Tito Fuentes, Don McMahon and Jim Howarth. Dave Kingman followed with his 18th homer as the Giants broke the baseball game open.

It was the Giants' fourth consecutive victory and the fourth loss in a row for the Dodgers, who fell seven games off the pace in the NL West.

The Cardinals, whose hot month has lifted them from last place to fourth, just one game behind the Cubs, got eight-hit pitching from Reggie Cleveland and two relievers and four runs batted in from Dal Maxvill, three on a bases-loaded double. Cleveland had a shutout until the eighth when Don Money homered for the Phils.

Bob Robertson and Manny Sanguillen homered for the Pirates as they continued their mastery of the Cubs—seven of nine this season—despite a Chicago triple play in the seventh on Sanguillen's sharp bouncer to third.

Robertson, dead last among major league hitters with at least 125 at-bats, also singled home the first run and has raised his average 40 points—to .156—since June 15 with two of his four homers and 10 of his 16 runs batted in during that stretch.

The Mets fell one game behind Pittsburgh when rookie Bob Rauch, making only his second major league appearance, issued four walks in the ninth inning, the last to Ron Fairly with two out forcing in Montreal's winning run.

Two singles by Fairly helped the Expos to a 3-0 lead but the Mets, blanked until the ninth by Bill Stoneman on four hits, tied it on two doubles, an error, sacrifice fly and Willie Mays' twoout pinch single.

Gary Nolan became the NL's first 11-game winner with seventh-inning help from Clay Carroll and home gave the Braves an early 2-0 lead but the Astros took the lead in the second on a two-run shot by pitcher Dave Roberts.

The Braves tied it on runscoring singles by Sonny Jackson in the seventh and Paul Casanova in the eighth before Helms' fly scored Doug Rader, who singled, took second on an error and third on an infield out.

runs by Cesar Geronimo, Johnny Bench—his 21st—and Tony Perez. The Reds wrapped it up by blasting San Diego pitching for eight runs in the eighth inning. Nate Colbert homered for the Padres.

Houston remained one-half game behind the Reds in the West by edging Atlanta on Tommy Helms' eighth-inning sacrifice fly. Aaron's 655th career homer

Sikeston Eliminated

CHAFFEE — Old man weather teamed with Chaffee's 13-year-old All-Star team to eliminate Sikeston from the state baseball tournament over the weekend. The double elimination event was forced into single elimination after rain washed out Saturday and Sunday action.

Tournament play resumed at 1 p.m. today with Booneville and Lebanon starting the top of the fourth inning, tied 2-2. Chaffee battled Carthage at 2 p.m. The winners are scheduled to collide for the championship at 6:30.

Lindy Duncan checked Sikeston's bats to four hits, but sloppy fielding also hurt the Sikeston stars, who committed three errors in a 7-1 loss to Chaffee Friday night.

Isaac Defends Title

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — It might be easier to pick second place in the Firecracker 400 stock car race Tuesday than to single out the winner.

In 16 events on the rich Winston Cup circuit this year, either Bobby Allison of Hueytown, Ala., or Richard Petty of Randleman, N. C., has been runnerup 11 times.

Between them they've also won eight events. Allison is the leading money winner of 1972 with $113,335 and Petty is his closest pursuer with $112,035 in the bank.

Throw in the Wood brothers' Mercury driven early in the season by A. J. Foyt of Houston and more recently by David Pearson of Spartanburg, S. C., and you have an odds-on quinnela of first and second place favorites.

Foyt won two races and Pearson three in the Mercury. Foyt was second once. Petty, now in a Dodge but earlier with a Plymouth, has five firsts and three second places. Allison, consistently at the wheel of a Chevrolet, has won three races. He has finished second eight times.

Bobby Isaac of Catawba, N. C., starting on the pole position in a Dodge he qualified at 186.277 miles an hour, has won once and finished second twice.

"One thing that happened last year isn't likely to repeat," vowed the 37-year-old former Grand National champion. "We won't have the hood coming up on us. Harry Hyde (crew chief) has added a fourth pin."

Isaac won last year's Fourth of July feature with his hood flapping under only one of its three restraining pins and threatening to flop up against his windshield on the final laps.

He started in 21st place as a late qualifier but benefited by mechanical troubles that struck down other contenders.

Maybe it's just a matter of taste, but some woodchucks always attack a garden while others seem satisfied with clover in the back forty. Clover-eaters often insure their lives, while gourmet types live dangerously. Who needs an animated mowing machine in a bean row?

Unlike a majority of butterflies, the beautiful Monarch migrates and has been known to travel a cool, 2,000 miles from Canada to Mexico. How do scientists know this? They band butterflies with a tiny plastic film which is clipped to a wing strut!

Presidential Protection

Secret Service agents were first assigned to protect President Theodore Roosevelt following President McKinley's assassination in 1901, a protection which was extended in 1913 to the president-elect, in 1917 to members of the president's immediate family, and to the vice-president in 1951, according to Encyclopaedia Britannica.

WELL-DRESSED PRINCE isn't usually seen in well-worn sailor's gear, but it's nothing out of the ordinary for Spain's Juan Carlos. The prince, heir apparent to aging Generalissimo Francisco Franco, is a yachtsman and dressed for action at races at Kiel, West Germany.

NEW ARMY CHIEF of staff is Gen. Creighton Abrams, named to the top post by President Nixon to succeed retiring Gen. William Westmoreland, who was also his predecessor as commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam.

SUCCESSFUL author Irving Wallace wants approval of the director who will make a film from his latest novel, "The Word." Wallace feels this is the only way to control the content of the movie and assure it follows his intent as a novelist.

What's The Law?

The Case Of The Bout With Fate

By Jack Strauss, LL. B.

Maggie lived in an apartment house where there were more intruders than tenants. They ranged from robbers and burglars plying their trade to drug addicts whose launching pads were located under staircases. Consequently, when Maggie found her bedroom window broken, which window opened onto a fire escape, she immediately requested her landlord to repair it. And, despite the fact that the landlord was required by local law to keep his building and all parts thereof in good repair, not a finger was lifted to comply with Maggie's numerous requests.

Then, one night, an intruder stuck his hand through Maggie's broken window, unlatched the lock, entered the room and, finding Maggie asleep, raped her.

Seeking recourse for the intercourse, Maggie sued her landlord for damages.

"It was all his fault" she complained in court, "for not fixing the window."

"Nonsense," was the landlord's response. "When a criminal wants to get into an apartment, a locked window isn't going to keep him out. Consequently, Maggie's being raped wasn't due to the unrepaired window. It was due to fate."

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you hold the landlord liable for Maggie's bout with "fate"?

This is how the judge ruled: YES! The judge held that a reasonable person in the landlord's situation, particularly considering the undesirables who frequented his building, should have anticipated that the opening in the fire escape window was an invitation to a criminal entry into Maggie's apartment. Consequently, concluded the judge, in view of the circumstances that prevailed, the failure to repair the broken window was a "cause" of the instrusion so as to make the landlord liable. (Based upon a 1971 New York Court of Claims Decision)

Motorists Warned Of 61 Hazards

A special word of warning was issued by Troop E of the State Highway Patrol for motorists traveling Highway 61 between Fruitland and Perryville, a stretch of highway which has consistently been the scene of more accidents per mile than any otherin the Troop E area, as a busy Fourth of July weekend begins.

Accident figures for the Fourth of July period, on the average the worst holiday traffic period of the year, are expected to be inflated this year by the fact that the count will be for a 102-hour period rather than 78 hours. The count started at 6 p.m. Friday and runs until midnight Tuesday.

The patrol warned motorists in particular of a point on Highway 61 in Perry County which has been the scene of more traffic accidents than any other spot in Troop E. The point is located two-tenths of a mile north of Route P on Highway 61 at the bridge over Cinque Hommes Crrek.

During a three-year period from 1969-71, the patrol recorded 47 accidents, 19 injuries and three fatalities occurring at the one point. To date this year there have been five accidents, six injuries and no fatalities at the bridge.

The patrol points to the narrowness of the bridge, which is approximately 18 feet wide, as one of thy reasons it is so dangerous.

"When two large trucks are approaching the bridge from opposite directions they will slow down so as not to meet on the bridge," Lt. L. L. Murphy, officier in charge of special services for Troop E, said. "Cars behind them sometimes fail to notice or slow down enough, thus causing many accidents."

He added that the heavy traffic along Highway 61 will be eliminated to a great extent with completion of Interstate 55.

"Highway 61 will see heavier traffic this weekend than in previous years because of the near completion of the interstate and will be one of the highways to watch," Lt. Murphy said. "The stretch of Highway 61 in Perry and Cape Counties has been the scene of more accidents per mile than any other stretch of road in Troop E with the exception of Highway 60 from Charleston to Cairo, Ill."

He added that six persons have been killed thus far this year in accidents on I-55 and Highway 61 in the two counties.

Sgt. Joe G. Matthews, safety officer for Troop E, warns motorists they should be "physically and mentally alert" before attempting to drive. They should also be conscious of speed, because high speed is the major cause of serious injuries and fatalities, he said.

Hypointed out that 40 per cent of the accident in the Troop E area during 1971 were single-vehicle accidents, both on interstates as well as other routes. "This certainly points out a lack of concentration an; attention on the driver's part," he said.

Accident totals for past Fourth of July traffic counts have shown a slight decrease over the years. Figures for the past five years follow: 1967, 59 accidents, 60 injuries and five fatalities; 1968, 47, 53 and five; 1969, 44, 44 and one; 1970, 49, 52 and two, and 1971, 45, 32 and two.

With the traffic count period running 24 hours longer this year than for past Fourth of July traffic counts and than the Memorial Day weekend count, accident totals are expected to be higher.

Vancouver in British Columbia handled 35 million tons of dry cargo in 1971, more than any other port on North America's west coast.

Highlights & Sidelights

from Our State Capitol

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. -- At first glance, the Dawson Building on East High Street in Jefferson City looks like the other business places that line the street several blocks from the State Capitol.

However, unlike the other buildings, the Dawson Buildings's ground floor is not occupied by shops. Behind the white drapery that covers two huge front windows is the Missouri State Library.

As unobtrusive and obscure as the offices it occupies, the State Library will soon be housed in a building all its own and its scope will be broadened if a Missouri legislator has his way.

Rep. Robert Young (R-Carthage) has proposed recently that the Missouri State Library take a role comparable to that of the Library of Congress. Young, who says he will introduce legislation facilitating these changes, is a member of the State Library Advisory Committee, a citizen's group.

The Library has two functions at the present time, according to Charles O'Halloran, secretary of the State Library Commission and state librarian. They are to serve as a library in Jefferson City in a governmental context and to serve public libraries throughout Missouri, much in the way the State Board of Education is linked to school districts throughout the state.

O'Halloran said the library maintains a collection of 200,000 volumes in 18,000 square feet of space. Four years ago, he noted, the library had only half that amount.

If the library were to expand to a legislative reference library, he said, it would require three or four times the space it has now and a doubling of the present staff of 40.

"We have a program which does provide reference services to the legislature," O'Halloran said. "A large number of legislators, about half, called on this service."

"The Legislature needs access to information for problems they're called upon to deal with. We're some distance from the Capitol and we're somewhat crowded, but it's better than it used to be."

The library, which also serves as a depository for publications of the U. S. Government Printing Office, maintains collections of records of several state agencies, although the bulk of that task is done by the Missouri State Historical Society and the State Archives.

Independence Day

As we join together to celebrate this Fourth of July, let us remember that, above all, this is a day to show our gratitude to our forefathers for their great fortitude and vision in establishing this great nation upon the foundations of freedom, and their steadfastness in upholding that freedom.

Let us affirm our faith in the principles for which they stood and pledge anew, dedicating ourselves unswervingly to the ideal that liberty may ever endure.
